TIME

DEPTH

Time can be a simple concept. It may be the irritating ring of an alarm clock early in the morning or just the silent ticking of a watch spending the minutes of the day; it may pass too slow or too fast. There is just so much time until the weekend, or until graduation. We must set aside time to eat and sleep, and to prepare our assignments and projects. Too often there isn't enough time. One activity can stifle another and exams can come all in one week. A love affair means sharing time with another. We normally spend time rushing to get somewhere or scurrying to get something done. Sometimes our time is wasted and we dash madly around to catch up; and then find we have a bit of time with nothing to do. But we need time to loaf or time to talk to a friend; everyone must have his own very private package of time that he saves to gratify a whim of the moment.

Time is a priceless ware to the college student. He cannot buy it. In most cases he must make it himself. He may schedule it efficiently or may squander it. He may regard time in relation only to what he is doing today; or he may think ahead to the future and plan his time tomorrow. This is a sage use of time—its projection into the future. When we project time we realize a new dimension but often overlook the intricate meshing of time in our world of BREADTH, HEIGHT, and DEPTH.

BREADTH IS AN EXPANSION,

A PERSONAL EXPANSION.

We come to Indiana and immediately our circle of friends expands. Campus activities attract us and we develop new interests. Athletics play a major role in the growth of our bodies, and the influence of the outside world broadens our scope of comprehension.

THE FRIENDLY introduction—so important for a good beginning.

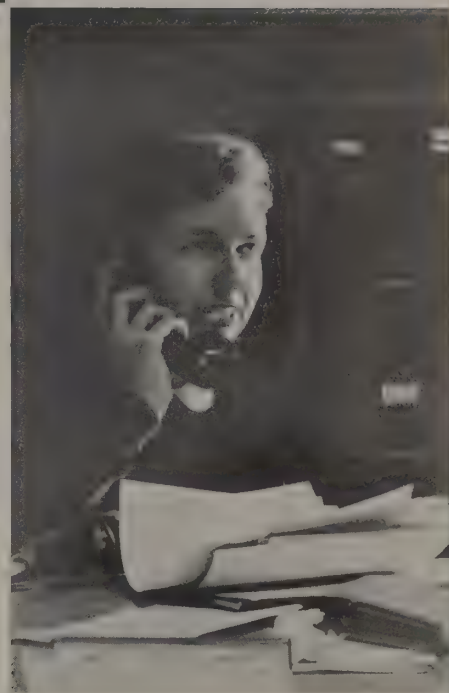

OUR LARGEST CIRCLE OF FRIENDS IS VERY NEAR—WHERE WE LIVE.

BRIGHT PODS—a sign of expanding interests.

then work hard at it.

BACKSTAGE, HUNGARIAN MUSICIANS TENSELY AWAITED NEWS OF A REVOLT.

GOOD NEWS, WE HOPE, FROM HUNGARY.

A TRULY TALL MAN IS AN EDUCATED MAN.

Education is books, teachers, classes, and a place to learn. Education may be difficult to attain, or may come easily. Then some of us select interests and settle down to learn more about them.

CLASSROOMS—WHERE THE REAL LEARNING BEGINS.

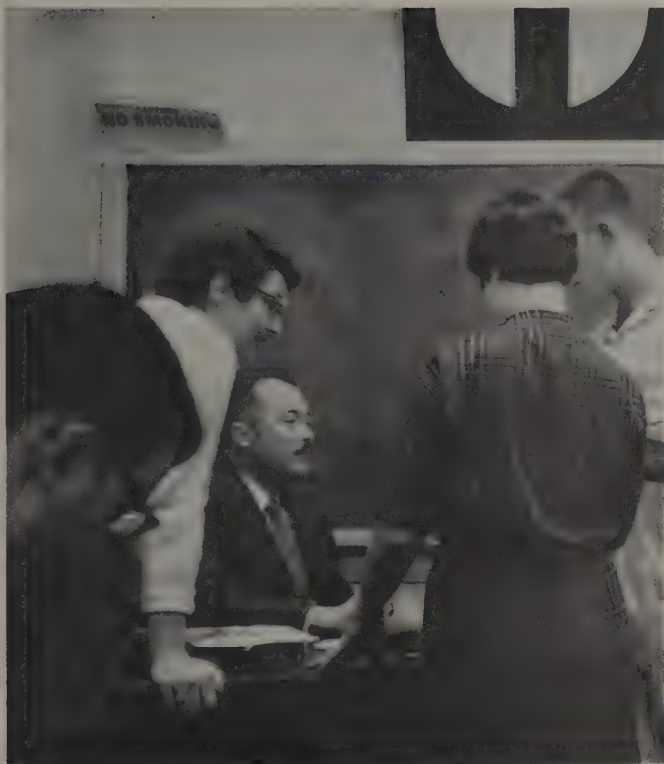

GROWING TALLER THROUGH GOOD LITERATURE.

A NEW LIBRARY, CLEAN AND QUIET, IS A TREASURY OF RICH LITERATURE.

FOR SOME IT COMES MORE EASILY.

OTHERS HAVE TO DIG, RE-READ, AND DIG.

WE SETTLE WITH A CHOSEN FIELD.

WE MAY EXHIBIT OUR SKILLS.

PRACTICE—then again—the process of perfection.

THERE IS DEPTH IN PERSONAL EXPERIENCES.

We gain insight by leading others and understanding their problems as well as our own. We marry and accept a new kind of responsibility. A more mature look is given to religion and to the service of others. We become more emotionally stable when we experience heart-break, frustration, and happy moments.

A COMMON BOND IS STRENGTHENED WITH GOOD LEADERSHIP.

THE SONG, TOO, MUST HAVE ITS LEADER.

WE LEARN AS WE DIRECT THE ACTION OF OTHERS.

WITH THE RESPONSIBILITY OF MARRIAGE COMES A NEW MATURITY.

THE SINCERE APPEAL TO OUR CREATOR—SYMBOL OF MATURING PERSONALITIES AND STRONGER DEVOTIONS.

WE FIND STRENGTH and a deepening by helping others.

FROM LAUGHTER AND APPROVAL COME LASTING MEMORIES—THE KEY TO WELL BEING.

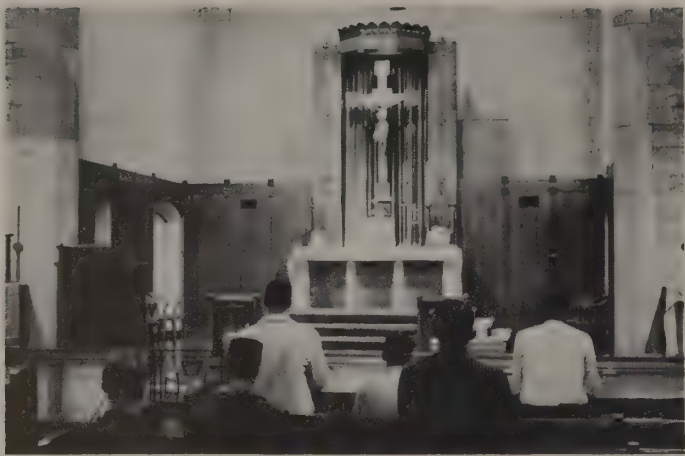

WHICH WAY TO TURN—WHAT TO DO?

WE LEARN HARD—BUT KEEP GROWING.

The picture of our University is yet incomplete. We have presented a mere shell—three common and visible dimensions—not a real and living world.

Time breathes life into our world and immediately becomes a constant part of our experiences. We find ourselves operating within its confines, season to season, day to day, and hour to hour.

Time has its dimensional quality too. We normally think of a dimension as a projection from a point; so we may project Time from the point—1957, creating our fourth dimension.

This fourth dimension gives us a chance to correlate our college careers with a lifetime. In every waking hour we amplify our framework of life by adding a new event or experience. Much of our education can be applied directly to a future job; the rest builds our self-confidence to face challenge and question. We select our co-workers with much the same mature judgment of a future employer-employee relationship. We choose our dearest companions with the hope of creating lasting friendships. The beauty of the campus in a particular season gives us the cognizance of an Almighty Power and assures us of an Eternal Partner. Religious activities help us face an unrehearsed future.

TIME

In our serious quest of the future we project into a fourth dimension the seasons and hours of 1957.

AND INTRODUCTION TO A UNIVERSITY,

DORMS GREET NEW FRESHMEN WITH OPEN DOORS.

Fall means the beginning of a new school year. Thousands of people flock to IU to teach, to study, and to work. A prepared campus awaits the influx. There are new buildings and additions ready to accommodate the increase in students. The traditional structures—the Wellhouse, the Student Building's steeple clock, and the bridges across the Jordan River—remain as part of the landscape. These give the campus its individualism.

IMMENSENESS IS THE MEASURE OF THE UNIVERSITY CAMPUS AS IT SPRAWLS OVER 1300 ACRES OF SOUTHERN INDIANA

SO BIG

TALL BUILDINGS LOOK DOWN UPON THE FOLIAGE AND SHADOWS OF THE TOWERING TREES.

BIG EMOTIONS and rivalry stir the massive potpourri of fans.

The spacious campus, ever-expanding, and the massive, ivy-covered buildings impress both strange and familiar eyes. Important persons, large classes, big books, also constitute an unforgettable part of the college scene. All these help to form the high ideals and big plans of students in today's world.

ENROLLMENT TIME IS MEASURED BY LINES, NOT MINUTES.

BIG LIGHTS in the auditorium sky look down on the buzzing crowd.

A PERPLEXED STUDENT UNRAVELS HER SCHEDULE.

FLAWS IN AN INTRICATE SYSTEM FRUSTRATE STUDENTS.

COMPLICATION SUPREME, THE LAST STEP IS COMPLETED.

AND COMPLEX,

THE IBM BOARD IS A DAYTIME BEEHIVE OF ACTIVITY.

Typical of the complexity and efficiency of a state university is registration and enrollment with its IBM machines, fees, punch cards, and class schedules. Even the winding paths, dead-end streets, narrow bridges, and meandering streams form a perplexing landscape. To the student this complexity has become a familiar part of college life at Indiana University.

AGAIN AND AGAIN, a perplexed student is pointed in a new direction.

The Union's fire blazing hospitality, the Commons' constant ebb and flow of laughing students: these contribute to the warmth of the campus. The readiness of profs to listen and advise outside of class, and the individual counseling program also are characteristic of IU as a friendly school.

FALL BROUGHT SOME NEW JOYS

FROSH STUDYING TOGETHER MEANS PILES OF BOOKS AND LOTS OF COFFEE.

Awareness of campus life and a sense of belonging to it came quickly to the Freshman student. He was first caught up in the whirlwind of activities when he elected class officers, but before he had an opportunity to relax, it was time for the Freshman Tyronion. The officers were kept busy conferring on appointments for the steering committee which planned the Tyronion, one of the most important campus dances. Then the dance was over and the Freshmen began to fall into the routine of college life.

NEW EXPERIENCES

Coming back for their sophomore year, the campus sophisticates wend their way into familiar dorms, fraternities, and sororities. They have high hopes for a second year. They have more assurance about dates, studying, and their personal abilities. Experience is the keyword.

NEW INITIATES ARE PROUD PIN WEARERS.

TO PATTERNED ROUTINES

Jaunty juniors profit from their two years of college experience. They return to school with their own cars, frayed stuffed animals, a few new clothes, and a more mature and serious attitude. They are settled in their studies, outside activities and social life.

SETTLED over desks and easy chairs, these two plan to study.

Seniors in the classroom are adept at grasping most of the professors' pertinent remarks. Experience has been a good teacher. At campus events they manage most of the organization. For four years they have been building toward these top positions. Many seniors begin to practice their future occupations as student teachers and assistants. The senior year is the final opportunity for college achievement.

CONDITIONING PAYS OFF AT THE RIGHT MOMENT AS THE BRILLIANTLY COLORED "100" EXECUTES A COMPLEX MOVEMENT.

A PRECISE "100"

A brand-new Marching Hundred steps briskly on to the field, the cream and crimson of their uniforms reflecting the Autumn sunlight. As they parade toward the opposite goal line, their cadenced marching conveys the spirit of victory to the spectators in the stadium. They pause in formation with their instruments poised; standing alert and confident, they add a note of splendor to an exciting game.

PREPARATIONS for the half-time show continue up to the final seconds of play.

A WIDE SWEEP—THEN A QUICK TURN INTO THE LINE.

When the woods are ablaze with crimson, orange, and golden shades, Memorial Stadium displays its Autumn colors—the cream and crimson of football and band uniforms, the black-and-white stripes of the officials' suits, and the variegated pattern formed by the spectators in the stands. Baseballs and bats disappear along with warm Summer days; brisk autumn breezes arrive; and football enjoys a brief but unchallenged reign of three months.

AND IN THE PARKS.

Because of their solitude and their quiet natural beauty, near-by parks offer relaxation from the fast pace set by Hoosiers in their campus activities.

During southern Indiana's several months of Spring and Fall weather, many hayrides and picnics are staged in the scenic surroundings of McCormick's Creek and Brown County. Campus eds and coeds often go to the parks to study, or to get acquainted.

IU ALSO SERVED THE COMMUNITY.

Clamoring masses jam the misty, smoke-filled fieldhouse to enjoy the light-hearted hi-jinx of the Fall Carnival. The huge sports arena takes on a gay, joyous air as carnival barkers display their wares and sparkling coeds burst forth with a bit of that "talent they didn't realize they had." The Carnival is ablaze with brilliant hues, sultry harems, kissing girls, and a general out-of-this-world atmosphere.

And while the student body immerses itself in the hilarity of the carnival spirit, the local Community Chest and other charity funds also profit from the receipts of the evening.

The fellows wear fancy corsages and uniquely designed hats — the gift of their dates — throughout the evening. Sometimes the men may feel just a bit out of place, with lapel corsages of vegetables or hats of tree greens, but it's all in the spirit of fun. ## THE HOLIDAYS GAVE RELIEF

The Campus, decorated from the top of the Student Building to the basement recreation room, is a scene of heightened gaiety and color during the Christmas season. Traditionally, a light-bulb Christmas tree radiates peace and good-will from the heights of the Union Building. Scores of carolers wander to-and-fro, filling the night air with the old familiar tunes, and—as always—President Herman B Wells plays Santa Claus in Alumni Hall.

BUT FINAL EXAMS ERASED THE FESTAL GLOW.

The four AM oil began to burn. Hurried hikes to the Library replaced slow strolls to snack bars and the Commons. Dates were turned into study sessions. Books were pored over with agonizing intensity as the stifling hush of Final Week preparation settled over campus.

SORORITY RUSH—

Late hours filled with no-doze, black coffee, cigarettes, and gab—days crowded with friendly “hi’s,” smiles, gleaming silver teapots, petits fours, and newly discovered friendships—this is sorority rush. Of all campus experiences, rush is perhaps one of the most exciting and rewarding for the new coed. During this time she is able to see the sixteen houses on campus and choose the girls she would most like to call “sisters.” From long hours spent polishing, dusting, discussing and debating, the sorority girls find their own reward: they find a mutual friendship with the girls they feel most capable of upholding the standards and traditions of their sorority.

THEN RAIN—

IT KEPT COMING—IN TORRENTS AND IN BUCKETS—MAKING THE DASH BETWEEN BUILDINGS A BIT HECTIC.

AS THE WINTER SUN WANES, THE WELLHOUSE BEGINS ITS LONELY WAIT FOR SPRING.

AND A BARREN CAMPUS

Ugly grey rain, in cold, penetrating sheets that saturate the campus with all-day storms, is the dreary precursor of Spring at IU as students hurry through puddles to classes, dirty slickers, washed bright and new again, dapple the drab campus with color. Despite the naked trees and slippery red-orange mud, there is also the smell of newness.

"LOOK HERE—WE'VE GOT THE BIGGEST CLOSETS ON CAMPUS."

FRATERNITIES RUSHED

"DON'T BOTHER GETTING UP—GLAD TO MEET YOU!"

Men's rush keeps the "Greeks" as well as the rushees on their toes. This year-round clamour includes dances, hayrides, smokers, and man-to-man chats for campus men and visiting high school seniors. The chase finally ends when happy pledges don a pin. Shaking hands, talking, shaking hands, eating, shaking hands—and so goes rush. While nervous rushees adjust collars and polish shoes, the "older" men shove dust under the rug and make ready for the new batch of pledges. Nervousness soon gives way to a lingering and relaxed friendliness.

LITTLE 500 . . .

Founded by Howdy Wilcox of the Indianapolis Star and News, and sponsored by the IU Foundation, the sixth annual Little 500 race climaxed long hours of roadwork and weeks of pre-race tension. The efforts and skills of hundreds combine to make this one of the highlights of the school year. For three thrill-packed hours fans scream from the side-lines. Tension mounts within the individual riders, each striving to make his team the best. Flat tires add to the excitement, and repair crews race against time to get the riders back on the track.

Cream and Crimson Day, IU's annual Spring sports carnival, was originated in 1947 in an attempt to boost student spirit. This circus of sports has become another in the vast parade of IU traditions.

Sponsored by the I-Men's Association, this sports-filled day offers events in football, baseball, track, golf, and tennis. It is on this day that alumni and students traditionally gather to compare IU's athletic prowess to that of other teams in Big Ten competition.

Students searched for cool study retreats in the shade. Although aware of the colorful Spring maturation of campus scenery, they were engrossed also in the development of their own ideas.

AND HOTTER UNDER THE COLLAR.

As students prepare for semester examinations, mounting anxiety conflicts with the laziness of summer heat. But, after the cramming and farewell boresses of premature final week, heavy eyes show a faint shine of gratification; a year of building is ended. At the peak of the academic year, student efforts were concentrated on the final push. Yet, the entire year's work, not just the hasty reviews, will affect his outlook. Whether or not the student surmounts that last obstacle of exams, the year has still been a maturing experience.

GRADUATES, FAMILIES, AND FRIENDS MINGLE AS THEY AWAIT THE END OF THE BEGINNING.

ONE CLASS FINISHED;

The graduating class of 1956 march to their seats. A moment of silence prevails. The ceremony begins. To most it seems incredible that this will climax the climb for the heights of education. Each has gained some degree of knowledge. Scholarship, however, is only one contributor to a successful life. A graduate must also have developed the depth and breadth of his character. Thus, commencement is actually only the separation between study and application.

The atmosphere at Summer School conforms with the season and the interests of the students. Concentrated assignments, hot weather, and small classes produce a feeling of ease and friendliness among the students and professors. Such a picture of IU is quite a contrast to the bustle of twelve thousand students during the Winter months.

The hours tread on, beating an unmethodical path—crystallizing our dreams into reality, or obliterating them.
Moments pass. Another hour is drawing near, certain or uncertain.
Preparing? Maybe. Most likely, just waiting.

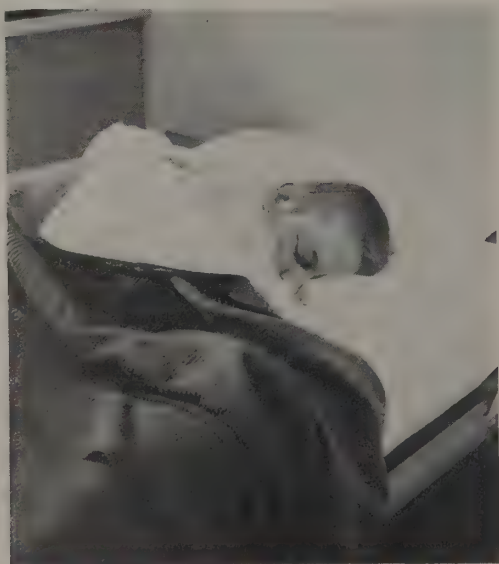

The measure of Time Being?—the hour of course. A single hour is only a segment; but hours, thousands of hours, form a pattern that will mature into a future.

THE WAKING HOURS OF MORNING, REAL AND SO MISERABLE—YET WE CANNOT HOVER FOREVER.

A JARRING BUT POSITIVE HOUR INITIATES A POSE,

Each morning, people sit up in the warmth of their beds and try to clear their bleary eyes and drowsy minds. In those moments of groggy awakening, the occasional muffled noise of early morning gradually breaks into the despondent mood. The memories of last night, thoughts of the long day ahead, and the person's attitude—discouraged, dejected, or hopeful—decides whether he gets up cheerfully, grumpily, or slips back under the shelter of the covers.

as the morning lecture drones on.

At night, in public places and hide-aways students search for distraction or relaxation. Men tell one another their troubles, and as they quench exaggerated thirsts, their troubles are dissolved. While they sing lusty songs, others are listening to a juke box. Night time is soft and evasive, and under its dark wing it is easy to slip into sentimental dream-stuff. Even in the hard, bright daylight of the morning after, the effects of the night before cling momentarily.

OR A FRIEND BEFORE.

In the university, as in any society, close friendships are formed—and broken. A departure or a quarrel may separate comrades. The intimate bond between a boy and girl can dissolve, burdened by far-reaching problems or silly whims. The long talks become arguments over trifles. Finally, there is a sad, quiet decision to separate, and a pin or a ring is returned.

AND WE COME OUT FROM OURSELVES

HALFTIME WAS TIME TO GET ACQUAINTED WITH A NEIGHBOR.

By helping others, many IU students learn the fundamentals of friendship. Studies and personal ambitions turn the student inward; nevertheless, IU students also feel the need to mingle with others occasionally. Turning out from himself, each student practices the art of helping others. He senses his responsibility for other human beings, especially toward handicapped or underprivileged children. In this and other charitable activities, students find that unselfishness can be warmly, personally rewarding.

INTO THE LIVES OF OTHERS.

Through the experiences of others we know the impact of our own lives. Through serving others we come to know ourselves. We work to instill others with our faith. So we work with handicapped or underprivileged children. We enjoy the fellowship of others and the insights of speakers much wiser than ourselves. Thus, we learn to orient our lives to goals which will direct us to a life of understanding and faith.

Determined to see freedom victorious, they "Help Hungary;" they literally "give something of themselves" to the Bloodmobile. ## STILL THE HOURS RACE BY,

It is easy to get lost in the rapid pace of work and pleasure. Resting in bed those few extra moments in the morning just means quickening the pace to class. With a tight schedule, others must rush through lunch. At night, there is that frenzied effort to get ready for a date in time, and at a late hour, a dash for the "sign in" sheet. As students grow more active, and their days become busier, the hours seem to gain momentum. Some are able to ride the crest of this flood of time; others find it overwhelming.

AN EVENING RITUAL MADE COMFORTABLE.

NO KIDDING, SHE REALLY IS SHARP.

Like other people, IU's students are faced with the routine of everyday life. For convenience they add to the routine; they form habits, from brushing their teeth to writing a nightly letter. Coeds submit to nightly pin-curl settings, and men to their pre-class shaves. Each day they attend classes at a regularly scheduled time. Although the dull monotony of these tasks makes it hard to remain mentally alert, the routine adds its own personality to the day's schedule.

DISREGARDED,

Minutes can so easily slip by students who are engrossed in a favorite pastime or just simply distracted. Strangely enough this forgotten time often soothes a tired mind and mends broken patterns of thoughts. From time to time we all encounter idle moments of relaxation, slouched in an easy chair or cat-napping on a sofa—or in some other state of inertia. We often seek various forms of entertainment to help pass the time of day and to aid us in disregarding a bit of the daily schedule.

Students elected to honoraries are those who, through scholastic achievements and activities, have shown an unusual interest in and loyalty to the university. Perhaps for this reason the chief concern of every honorary on campus is to make IU more than just a school to every student.

Purposes of the honoraries include activities to revive traditions and to promote student spirit. They make a towering university seem smaller and closer to each of us.

Clubs are an important cog in the activity machine at IU. They play a large part in helping further the interest of a student in his vocational goal. Listening to speakers who represent his field gives the student better insight into that particular profession. Field trips add to his knowledge of the mechanics necessary to run his future business and to make his career successful.

Writing copy and headlines, editing, and meeting deadlines are all part of putting a story together. After learning the principles of good journalism in class, students learn to apply these theories in practice. ## STUDENT GOVERNMENT, Campaigns and conventions introduce the annual political circus at Indiana. Independents, Organized, and an unofficial third party devise strategies and contend for the election of candidates. As the positions are filled—for Student Senate, the Student Supreme Court, and class and Senate offices—these representatives begin the serious work of running a complex student government.

Through caucuses and committees, campus politics is an enlightening exercise in government.

NOW, MR. SPEAKER, my point on this amendment is . . .

OUR STUDENT GOVERNMENT OFTEN TACKLED PROBLEMS OF GREAT SIGNIFICANCE BOTH TO THE COMMUNITY AND THE CAMPUS.

The people who participate actively in the Student Senate and Student Supreme Court learn personally about the functionings of government. The Student Senate is the voice of the student body. It discusses their suggestions and if they are feasible, puts them into effect. The Student Supreme Court listens to and judges cases brought up by students, organizations and any other campus group that wants to be heard.

AND ACADEMIC ACTIVITIES.

The projects of schools and departments offer students a chance to learn more about their chosen profession. Determined to succeed, many dedicate their time to the work which will decide their future. To gain practical experience for an occupation, like radio-TV or the sciences, students put into practice what they have already learned in the classroom.

After each lecture, debate, or exhibit, students retain a part of the world with which they, perhaps, had never had contact before.

THROUGH CULTURE

Among the most rewarding of experiences to the mature mind is the Convocation Series. This year the series included a mixture of politics, entertainment, and science as IU welcomed Harold MacMillan, Clement Atlee, Bennett Cerf, and New York Times Pulitzer Prize winner, William Laurence. Programs varied from an organ recital by Flor Peters of the Royal Flemish Conservatory to programs concerning the outer reaches of Africa, Greece, and Siam by Murl Deusing, Clifford Kamen, and Herbert Knapp. Thought stimulating convocations were balanced by the hilarious antics of Victor Borge, who has been called the funniest entertainer in the world.

The IU Auditorium was the scene of several outstanding Broadway productions during the 1956-1957 season. London's famed Old Vic Company made Bloomington one of its first stops on its pre-Broadway tour, thrilling audiences with fine productions of Romeo and Juliet and Richard II. Starring Claire Bloom and John Neville, the Shakespearean troupe went on to a successful Broadway run.

Shortly after, the recent Broadway musical-comedy hit, The Pajama Game, performed at IU. Starring Betty O'Neil and Larry Douglas, the touring company was in many respects superior to the New York original. Finally, the original New York company of A Hatful of Rain, starring Vivian Blaine, played in the Auditorium. Ben Gazzarra re-created his original co-starring performance in this exciting drama about the problems of a young drug addict.

In addition to this diversity of selection, 1956 marked the premiere of IU's own opera, The Land Between The Rivers, by Carl Van Buskirk, associate professor of voice. Students may even take a year of work which will enable them to enter engineering at Purdue University.

Extracurricular activities, such as the Indianapolis Philharmonic Orchestra and Chorus, provide for the further development of artistic abilities. The Indiana University Center at Kokomo, since opening its doors in 1945, has helped enrich the lives of more than six thousand students. Although its enrollment of nearly seven hundred students a semester classifies it as one of IU's smaller extensions, Kokomo is large in cultural value to the surrounding community. Outstanding on the Center's list of special adult offerings is the Kokomo Civic Theatre. Begun in 1949, the theatre now has a membership of about four hundred and fifty people, including patrons, season ticket holders and workers—the students and adults who, for experience, present the plays.

Hastings, President, Washington; Fenwick T. Reed, Secretary of Board; Dr. Dillon Geiger, Bloomington; Ray C. Thomas, Gary; Earl B. Pulse, Columbus.

The Board of Trustees, established by the Indiana University charter, governs the University which is ranked 11th in the United States according to size and boasts a total enrollment of 14,072 full-time students.

Our Board of Trustees consists of three members elected by the alumni and five members appointed by the State Board of Education. Each trustee serves on the board for three years.

We at Indiana are fortunate in having a Board of Trustees with foresight. It is the vision of the governing board that makes a University great. Recently this board launched a fifteen-year building and expansion program which will continue to make Indiana University one of the fastest progressing schools in the nation.

THE PRESIDENT

The one person most responsible for the dynamic development of IU has been Dr. Herman B Wells.

The President has for twenty years increased the services of IU to student, community, and nation through the expansion of curricula, building of a distinguished faculty, and increases in research activity and physical faculties.

Dr. Wells is presently a member of twelve different boards, and chairman of three. He belongs to five committees and is the chairman of three others. Dr. Wells is also actively engaged in many other activities in the state and nation.

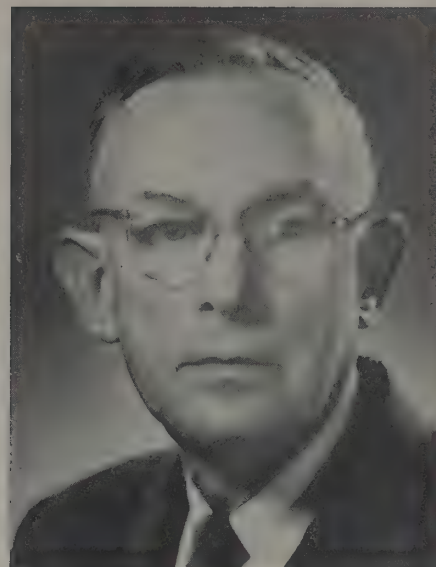

Our President proves that education can be fun, too, by donning his traditional Santa costume for Christmas Eve on Campus.

VICE-PRESIDENTS

JOHN W. ASHTON

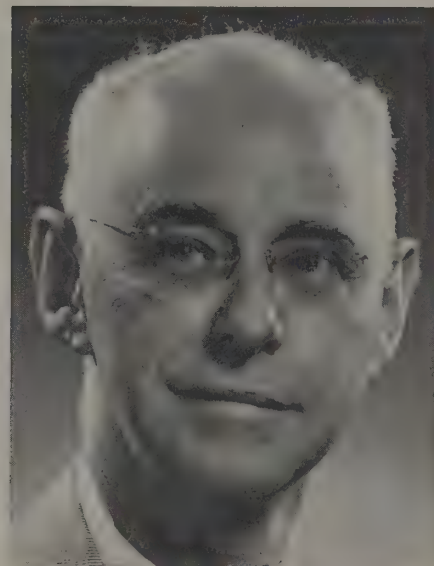

One area of administrative work is the responsibility of each of the four vice-presidents of Indiana University.

Dr. Herman T. Briscoe is in charge of the over-all academic structure. All schools report their budgets, their faculty appointments, and their curricula to him after which they are approved by the President and the Board of Trustees.

J. A. Franklin acts as treasurer of the University. The vast amount of money needed to run the University is his concern. Another of his chief interests has been the building and expansion program of the University.

Dr. John W. Ashton, Vice-president and Dean of Students and Educational Services, acts as an adviser to the counseling service and to the publications. He also has charge of the research program.

Vice-president and Director of Administrative Studies and Institutional Relations, Dr. Wendell W. Wright, is also the Dean of the School of Education.

COUNSELING

One feature which gives Big Ten Indiana the benefit of the little campus is the Office of the Dean of Students. Through this office a personal counseling system is organized to advise and assist all students individually and to help them gain the greatest possible benefits from being a member of the University.

Divisions of the Office of the Dean include the Central Housing office, Halls of Residence Counseling, Student Activities, Scholarships and Loans, Military Information, Student Employment, Reading and Study Clinic and Veterans Affairs.

The office works not only with undergraduates, but acts as a workshop for graduate students interested in guidance. The office this year broadened its program by enlarging its personnel of graduates.

The leadership training seminar, taught by Dean Shaffer, began using actual case histories for classroom discussion. The invitation credit course is offered to those students in responsible positions on campus.

The office is now planning to refurnish and redecorate a campus sorority house to provide better housing for international group activities. This international group center will encourage foreign student activities at IU.

ASSISTANT DEAN

All freshmen entering I. U., and transfer students not yet eligible for certification to a particular school are included in the Junior Division, a part of the counseling service of I.U. The Junior Division provides one counselor to every fifty freshmen, who advises in regard to programs and problems. Guidance is given in educational, vocational, and personal problems.

Counselors this year assisted in planning more than 3,000 students' course programs, selecting a school and a major, arranging study schedules, and developing proper study habits. In this way, a freshman receives special attention in regard to academic opportunities of the University. The student becomes better acquainted with his new life.

SERVICE ENTERPRISES

GEORGE R. OLSEN
DIRECTOR OF HALLS OF RESIDENCE

H. W. JORDAN
DIRECTOR OF SERVICE ENTERPRISES

The role of Service Enterprises is a major one in the total operation of this university. Service Enterprises provide us with essentials like the rooms we live in, the food we eat, the entertainment we find at the Auditorium and the Union, not to mention the textbooks we use from the bookstore, the printing and duplicating service, and the Auditorium series and many Union functions. These services which we use daily—some for our education and some for our entertainment—are all self-supporting agencies which are managed by the Service Enterprises.

SECRETARIES AND OFFICE WORKERS

The group on campus which gets "the most out of their work"—the secretaries, switchboard operators, and general office workers—know the real meaning of the phrase.

Many of the staff are students, working to put themselves through college. Many of them are wives of students. Others are full-time employees. All do their share of work toward keeping I. U. functioning.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

The 1,600 acres of Bloomington campus are landscaped and maintained by the Buildings and Grounds Department, a part of the Indiana University Physical Plant. This department, supervised by Henry Pearson, consists of some 318 full-time employees in 21 sub-departments, and many part-time helpers.

The Buildings and Grounds Department does all the housekeeping in our academic buildings. The department also repairs and maintains such non-academic buildings as the athletic buildings, Union Building, and various dormitories.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

The College of Arts and Sciences devotes itself through its 42 departments and area programs to the liberal education of its majors and of almost all students attending the University.

Around the College have formed the other schools and divisions of the University. Since the College opened its doors as a seminar, it has been the central college. All schools require an important portion of each student's curriculum to be in Arts and Sciences.

Although the aim of the College is the liberal, broad education of the student, the College also has concentrated studies in liberal fields such as journalism and speech and theatre.

The College this year increased its efforts to help its graduates toward employment. Each senior through registration may indicate his job preference and abilities for interested employers.

Honors programs and special study programs exist for the advancement of superior students. In charge of these as well as general courses of the College are some 400 instructors. Additions of world-renowned scholars to the faculty this last year included Dr. Herman Muller and Mr. William Parker.

BUSINESS

THE Y-SHAPED BUSINESS BUILDING TOWERS IN CLEAN, RISING DESIGN.

The largest regular undergraduate school on campus student-wise is the School of Business. This year the school continued its program focused on the development of the newtype business leader for the next generation.

To aid in this program, a comprehensive examination in the basic business fields was given to all juniors. The examination will enable the student to see his abilities in analytical and creative situations and will aid in his selection of advanced courses in his special field of study.

The graduate of the School of Business has planned his courses along his interest with a specialization in one of 16 formal concentrations. The holder of any of the three School of Business degrees, the B.S., M.B.A., or D.C.S., is recognized nationally as a competent professional man.

EDUCATION

DEAN WENDELL W. WRIGHT

*SECURE and content,
our youth develops.*

The School of Education has many excellent departments to guide those entering the teaching profession. There is a Bureau of Research directed by the School of Education which investigates problems of the public schools. The Bureau of Measurements provides testing services to the public schools, and the Bureau of Educational Placement gives advice to future teachers, helps them find suitable teaching positions, and discovers means of improving the teacher education program.

The School of Education also directs a Department of Special Education which has expanded to include problems concerning the bright child, the slow-learning child, and the home-bound child.

MUSIC

AFTER SIGNING OUT an instrument, a student heads for the practice room.

BEFORE EVERY CONCERT, students spend long hours in gruelling practice.

The IU School of Music, one of the largest, state-supported music schools, presented 251 programs last year. The students gave their performances under the guidance of a distinguished faculty. Because of the unlimited opportunities for advanced study, there are more doctoral students here than at any other Big Ten University. The student and faculty made more than two hundred off-campus appearances last year alone.

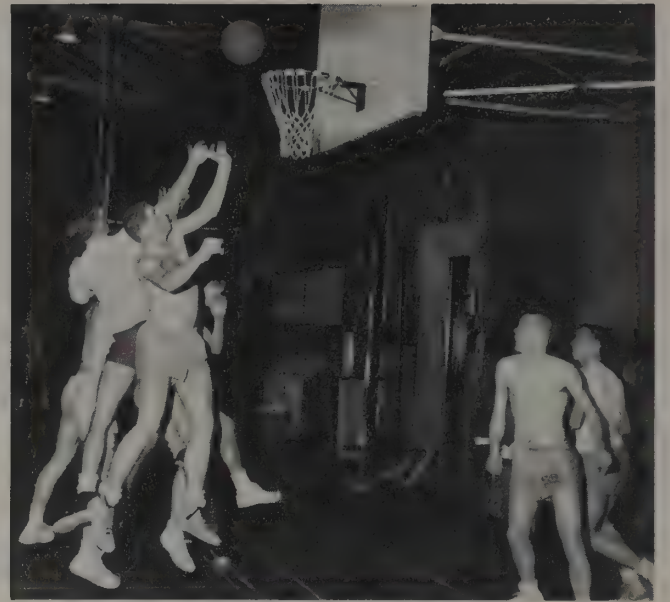

Quality comes first. The School of Music feels that programs are not primarily for the amusement of the audience, but for the benefit of the students performing so that they may strive for perfection.

HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION, AND RECREATION.

. . . A STUDENT TRIES HER SKILL.

A MEN'S GYM CLASS RECEIVES THE DAILY SCHEDULE OF EVENTS.

In addition to providing teachers for the required physical education classes, Indiana University's School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation develops athletic coaches and leaders in recreation, and trains students and instructors in Public Health, Safety, First Aid, and Driver Training.

The HPER School also maintains and staffs two of the finest recreational camps in the United States. One is at Elkhart, Wisconsin, and the other is on a tract of land known as Bradford, Woods, northwest of Martinsville.

On the campus, the staff in Alpha Hall provide referees and umpires for intramural sports, and help sponsor the weekly "REC" nights and dances in the Student Building.

Dean Willard W. Patty, the first dean of the HPER school, will retire in June. The HPER school which was Dr. Patty's creation will stand as a reminder of his 32 years of service to the University.

DEAN WILLARD W. PATTY

"BUT, NO, THAT CAN'T BE RIGHT."

DEAN RALPH E. CLELAND

More than 2500 graduate students were enrolled in Indiana University this year. Of these, some 1100 were in Graduate School, and the others were distributed among the Schools of Education, Business, Music, Law, Medicine, Dentistry, and Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, each of which offers its own advanced degrees.

The Graduate School offers five degrees at the master's level and the doctorate of philosophy.

Included in the work of the Graduate School is an extension program of basic research. Especially noteworthy is the work being done in the fields of genetics, cosmic rays, nuclear physics, and asteroids. In conjunction with this research, the Graduate School publishes a series on sciences, and a special series on folklore.

Students in the Graduate School are trained in the methods of research and for teaching research and other professions.

Expansion was the theme in the School of Law this year. The beautiful new building and the grant from Inland Foundation of Indianapolis made this possible. The building provides better working conditions; larger, more convenient classrooms, and attractive study rooms and offices. The grant makes possible an expanded curriculum, more scholarships for first-year law students, and an increase in the faculty. With these improvements, students and faculty will be able to pursue modern methods of instruction and application of legal techniques.

The University is very pleased with the new program and hopes for even bigger and better results from IU's School of Law.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

STUDENT NURSES relax with an after work ping-pong game.

The School of Medicine includes Medical, Medical Technician, Medical Record Librarian, and Nursing students. Because of the manner in which this school encompasses two campuses, the dean, Dr. Van Nuys, maintains offices both in Bloomington and Indianapolis.

A student who aspires to become a doctor takes three years of "pre-med" training at Bloomington before he is admitted to the School of Medicine itself. The first year of medicine is taught at Bloomington. Plans have been made to move these first-year courses to the Indianapolis Medical Center in 1958. An extensive program of research is conducted at the Medical Center to give the students practical experience as well as instruction.

The School of Dentistry is part of the IU Medical Center in Indianapolis. It is considered one of the best equipped schools in the country.

The School has training for dental students in seven or more specialized areas such as surgery, straightening teeth, or making artificial teeth. Last year, the excellently equipped Dental Clinic treated more than 10,000 persons from an area of some 600,000, giving the students much opportunity for practice and study.

The dental program consists of at least two years of predental preparation and one year of professional education here on campus. The last three years are offered at Indianapolis. The Dental School also provides a dental hygiene program of two years for women.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE PROFESSORS

A new academic title, "distinguished service professor," was bestowed by the Indiana University Board of Trustees on three professors in June, 1953. Since then only two other scholars have been elevated to the service professorships, the University's highest academic rank. The title is in recognition of their distinguished achievements in their fields and service to the University.

DR. JOHN R. MOORE
PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH

Prof. Moore, selected in June, 1956, is internationally known as one of the leading scholars in Augustan literature and history. He is a specialist in the political and literary activities of Daniel Defoe.

DR. TRACY Y. THOMAS
PROFESSOR OF MATHEMATICS

Prof. Thomas, selected in June, 1956, is one of the world's leading authorities in the fields of differential geometry and applied mathematics. His research has won for him membership in the National Academy of Sciences.

DR. H. J. MULLER
PROFESSOR OF ZOOLOGY AND GENETICIST

Prof. Muller, selected in 1953, is a winner of the Nobel Prize in Medicine for his studies of the effects of X-rays on fruit flies. He has been known as a critic of Soviet control of scientists behind the Iron Curtain.

DR. T. M. SONNEBORN
PROFESSOR OF ZOOLOGY AND GENETICIST

Another 1953 selection, Prof. Sonneborn, has made studies of heredity that may help to explain the changes from normal to abnormal cells which occurs in cancer.

DR. STITH THOMPSON
PROFESSOR EMERITUS OF ENGLISH AND FOLKLORE

Prof. Thompson, selected in 1953, has linked the world's past to the present with his studies and compilation of folklore. His IU office is known as a "Port of Call and Clearing House" for folklorists all over the world.

FREDERIC BACHMAN LIEBER AWARD

Excellence in teaching is recognized each year through the Frederic Bachman Lieber Memorial Award for Distinguished Teaching. The recipient is selected by an all University committee of 10 members who receive nominations from the College and Schools of the University. Income for the endowment is given by Mrs. Katie D. Bachman in memory of her grandson. The award was first given in 1954.

DR. W. R. BRENEMAN
PROFESSOR OF ZOOLOGY

Selected for the award in 1955, Prof. Breneman has given of his time and counsel to collegiate athletics and other general affairs of the University. He is recognized as a master of classroom techniques.

JEROME HALL
PROFESSOR OF LAW

Prof. Hall received the award in 1956. He is one of the outstanding legal scholars of the world and has brought distinction to himself and IU by lecturing in universities of many countries of Asia and Europe.

HENRY B. VEATCH JR.
PROFESSOR OF PHILOSOPHY

The first award was given to Prof. Veatch in 1954. His teaching has long been judged distinguished by his students and by his peers. Prof. Veatch is a scholar and author of national reputation.

BROWN DERBY AWARD

An interesting contrast to the Lieber Award is the "most popular professor" award presented by Sigma Delta Chi. The award, first given to a professor in 1937, was a dyed-brown derby. However, in 1941 the late Al Smith sparked the tradition by sending his own autographed brown derby. Today the tradition continues as the regal headpiece is presented to the most popular prof at the annual Gridiron Banquet.

MERRITT LAWLIS
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH

The 1956 winner is in his sixth year at IU. A veteran of five years' Air Force Service during World War II—part as a prisoner of war—Prof. Lawlis said he found teaching "very exciting."

JOSEPH L. SUTTON
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF GOVERNMENT

The 1955 winner has been termed "extremely" sociable, remembers faces very well and doesn't hesitate to confront his students outside of class with a firm "hello."

ARTHUR TAITT
LECTURER IN FINANCE

The 1954 winner, a relative newcomer to IU, is well loved by his students. A popular lecturer, Mr. Taitt is congenial and energetic in all his activities.

PROFESSORS IN THE NEWS

Hardly a week passes that some member of the faculty of Indiana University is not recognized in the news. Their influence is felt in learned circles throughout the world. We are proud of the many and varied accomplishments of our professors and present here only a slight sketch of the work that has been done.

K. P. WILLIAMS
PROFESSOR OF MATHEMATICS

As a delightful contrast to a career in mathematics, Prof. Williams completed this year his fourth volume of "Lincoln Finds A General," a proposed seven-volume series on the Civil War.

S. F. OTTESON
PROFESSOR OF MARKETING

This year Prof. Otteson directed the economic survey of Indiana, a survey to which many members of the School of Business faculty contributed.

DR. HENRY R. HOPE
CHAIRMAN AND PROFESSOR,
DEPT. OF FINE ARTS

Prof. Hope acted as general program advisor at the Ninth General Conference of UNESCO which opened Monday, Nov. 5, 1956 in New Delhi, India. Prof. Hope also lectured in Thailand and Japan.

ELVIN S. EYSTER
CHAIRMAN AND PROFESSOR
BUSINESS EDUCATION AND OFFICE TRAINING

The fourth John Robert Gregg Award was given this year to Prof. Eyster. The national award is given for outstanding work in the field of educating students for business teaching.

IN MEMORIAM

The day is always dark when a member of a family passes on. Our faculty family at Indiana University was deeply saddened by the deaths of four of its most beloved and respected members. Three others not on this campus also died this year, Prof. Frank Richman, Prof. James Ogden, and Mark Helm.

DR. ALFRED C. KINSEY
PROFESSOR OF ZOOLOGY

The untimely death of Dr. Kinsey on August 25, 1956 dealt to mankind a great loss. His works, however, will live and influence the thought of future generations.

MISS AGNES ANDERSON
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF SOCIAL WORK

The loss of Miss Anderson on July 8, 1956 deeply touched all those who knew her. We will always remember her selflessness, humility, and sincere interest in others.

DR. ANDREW P. USHENKO
PROFESSOR OF PHILOSOPHY

The death of Professor Ushenko on September 11, 1956 was keenly felt by his colleagues and students. He exerted a stimulating influence by intimately understanding those who worked under him.

DR. JAMES E. MOFFAT
PROFESSOR EMERITUS OF ECONOMICS

After a long illness, Prof. Moffat died on January 9, 1957. Dr. Moffat was a gifted and stimulating teacher. His name was synonymous with the teaching of economics at Indiana University.

SENIORS

HALL OF FAME

Every year Indiana University graduates many seniors who have been outstanding both in scholarship and activities outside the classroom. To honor every one whom we consider outstanding would be impractical; so we have selected fifteen senior men and women who best represent those who have compiled outstanding records while at IU. To be elected to the Hall of Fame, the senior must have been a top executive in a major all-campus activity, elected to at least one campus honorary, and have maintained a grade average above the all men's or women's average.

SPORTS

Bill Woolsey, Hoosier pride, copped a sixth in the 200-meter freestyle.

Indiana University, which has in the past contributed heavily to the United States' proud record in the Olympic Games, donated the services of three athletes—Greg Bell, Dick Tanabe and Bill Woolsey—to the 1956 squad.

Gold medal winner Greg Bell warmed up by winning the Indoor and Outdoor Big Ten titles, and the National Collegiate and AAU championships. He then copped honors at Melbourne with a leap of 25' 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ ".

Dick Tanabe and Bill Woolsey, two of the speediest aquamen in the history of the University, brought glory to IU. Tanabe qualified as a member of the 800-meter freestyle squad, while Woolsey placed sixth in the 200-meter freestyle event.

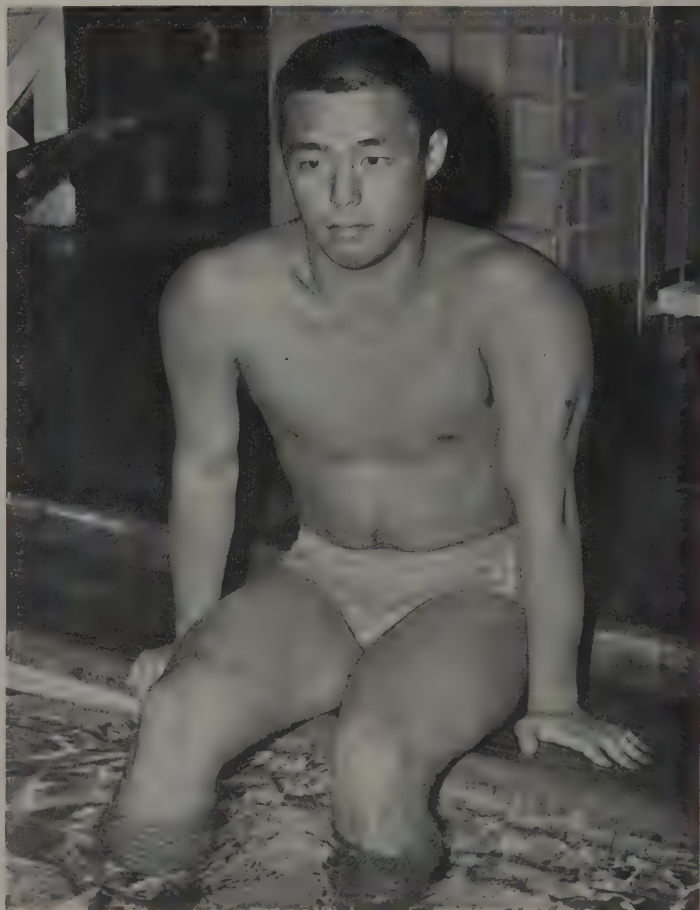

Two former Hoosiers also turned in key performances for the US cause.

Milt Campbell, a former IU track and football star now serving with the Navy, was dubbed by many sports writers as the "world's greatest athlete" as the result of his performances in the Olympiad. Milt won the grueling Decathlon with a score of 7,937 points, second highest in the history of the event.

Lt. Verle Wright, a graduate of 1952, now with the US Army, made the Olympic rifle team by averaging 1,149 points out of a possible 1,200 in three days of firing.

OLYMPICS

Dick Tanabe, another Hawaiian Hoosier, qualified as a member of the US 800-meter free-style team.

Milt Campbell, winner of the rugged Decathlon, was dubbed by sports writers throughout the nation as the "world's greatest athlete."

Lt. Verle Wright was one of America's two representatives in the 50-meter small bore rifle competition.

Indiana's ace broad-jumper Greg Bell joined the gold medal winners with a leap of 25' 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ ".

FOOTBALL

Brad Bomba and Bob Fee, voted Most Valuable Line-man and Most Valuable Back, respectively, contributed outstanding performances. Bomba cracked two all-time IU records by catching nine passes against Northwestern for a new single-game mark, in addition to a new all-time high of thirty-one for the season. Fee was third in rushing yardage for a single year with 621.

The resignation of Coach Crimmins was followed by the naming of Phil Dickens, whose Cowboys of Wyoming swept through an undefeated season and the Skyline Conference title, as next year's mentor. Phil Dickens, an advocate of the winged-T and single-wing formations, will assume duties for the '57 campaign.

Captain Eugene Cichowski and Coach Bernie Crimmins map their strategy.

Bob Fee, voted Most Valuable Player and Most Valuable Back, also saw action in the North-South game.

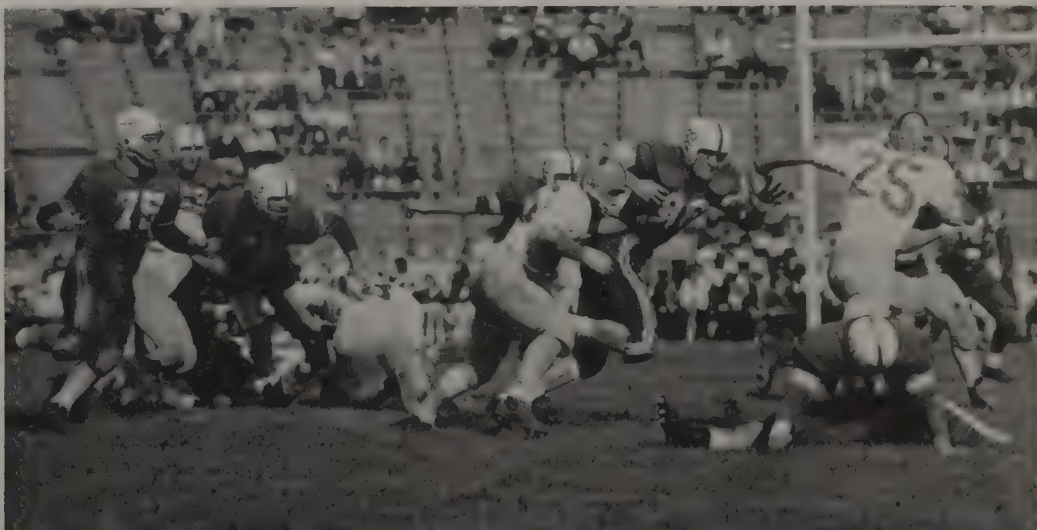

Voted Most Valuable Lineman on this year's squad, Brad Bomba also played in the East-West game, the Senior Bowl and was selected as one of the College All-Stars who will play the New York Giants in August.

Hoosier gridmen provide thrills aplenty for action-seeking spectators.

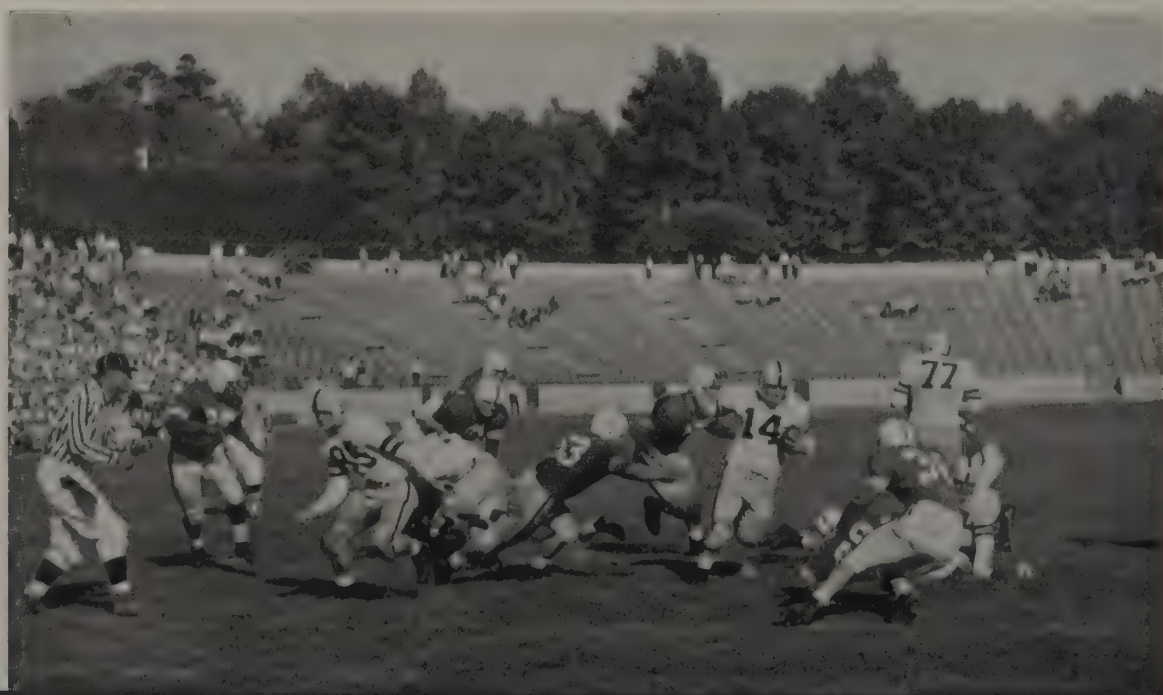

Big Joe Amstutz is quite pleased with the sight of the airborne pigskin.

Hawkeye Randy Duncan downs Willie Jones of the Hoosiers the hard way as teammate John Nocera arrives too late to offer any assistance.

Halfback Bill Gravel helped to advance the Rose Bowl-bound Iowa Hawkeyes toward pay dirt.

Willie Jones' visions of open territory are thwarted by a Notre Dame tackler.

Catches like this one helped Hoosier Brad Bomba set a new IU single game mark of nine catches against Northwestern and a total of thirty-one for the season.

IU's rebuilding process received a terrific jolt this season as a 2-7 season's mark and a 1-7 Conference performance found the Hoosiers resting in the Big Ten cellar.

Most of the story was told in the first halves of play, when the Cream and Crimson scored only 49 points to the 148 of their opponents.

The Hoosiers' schedule, however, pitted them against some of the roughest competition in the country. Rose Bowl champ Iowa was first on the grid slate, with powerhouses like Michigan State and Michigan certainly providing no let-up.

Boulle, Bill Irmscher, Obdul Moneim, Bill Elberty, Ghasan Omary, John Larson, Tom Turpin, Bill Helms, Reg Horsman, Bill Mueller, and Yan Graff.

SOCCKER

Ariye Ginzburg stifles Illini aspirations for a potential tally.

Ilan Rothmuller, shown here on the attack against Ohio State, should figure strongly in next year's bid for the title.

All-conference Hoosier halfback Reg Horsman breaks up an Ohio State on-slaught.

Dropping from the Midwest Collegiate Soccer Conference title in 1955 to a fifth place finish this season, the Hoosiers downed Illinois, Chicago, Ohio State and Indianapolis. The Hoosier team bowed to Wheaton, Earlham, Purdue and Navy Pier.

Stronger competition and the loss of several key men hampered the squad considerably.

The loss of All-American Gus Omary and All-Conference Reg Horsman will dim next year's forecast, but new material and the services of two-year All-American John Hicks should give Coach Joe Guennel's squad the depth needed for a first division club.

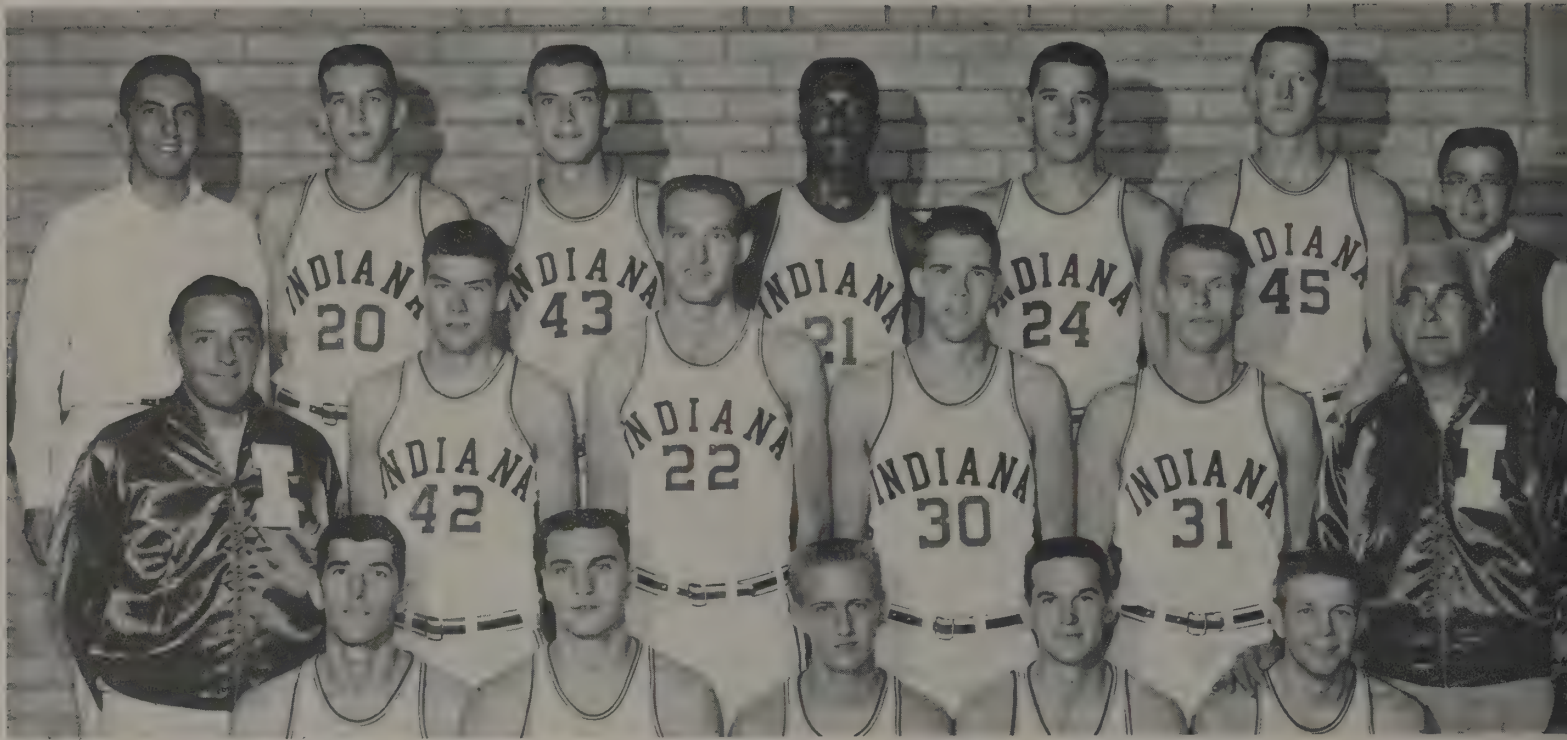

Action in Indiana-Purdue contest produces tension-taut faces.

The ball, reversing its direction, sends the play to the other end of the field.

Jerry Daniels (Senior Manager), Jerry Schofield, Pete Obremskey, Hallie Bryant, Ray Ball, Jerry Thompson, Joe Zukerberg (Junior Manager).

BASKETBALL

The Macmen have regained the Big Ten championship! Rising from a midseason sixth place, the Hurryin' Hoosiers put forth a finish which boosted them into a tie with Michigan State for the conference crown.

Featuring a well-balanced scoring attack, it was not unusual for several of the Hoosiers to score in the double figures.

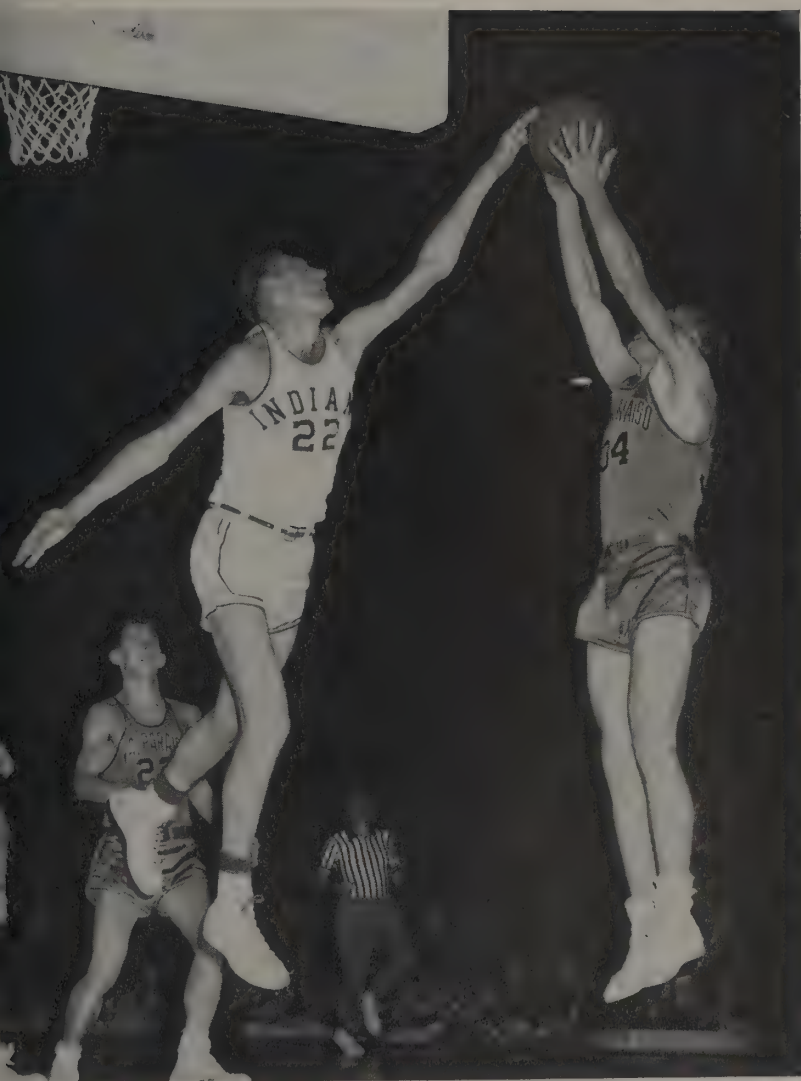

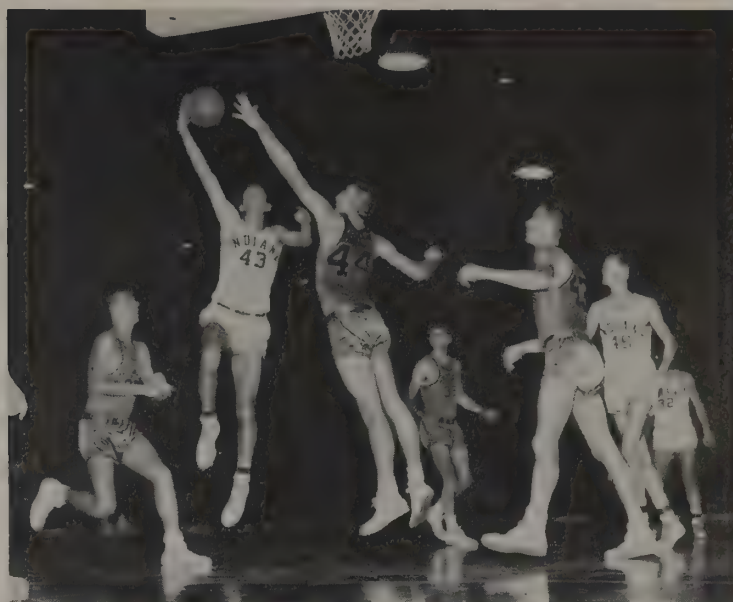

The fast-breaking brand of ball worked very effectively as the squad had speed to burn in Pete Obremskey, Charlie Hodson, Archie Dees, Dick Neal, Jerry Thompson and Hallie Bryant.

Charlie Hodson (No. 23), the "big little man," doubled as a top-notch action man and scoring threat.

Pete Obrebsky, master of Coach McCracken's running game, tallies against Valparaiso's Neil Reincke on a point-producing play.

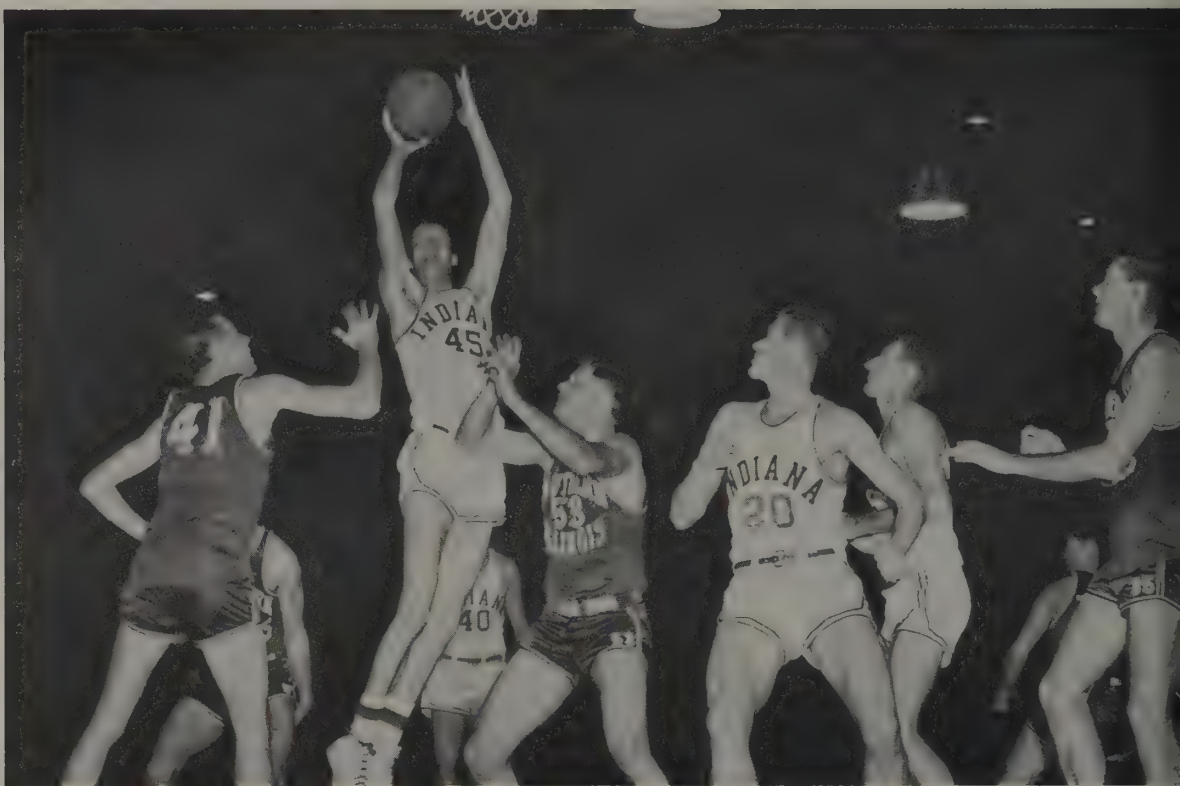

Big Archie Dees, the Macmen's ace center, was a standout on both offense and defense and a strong favorite for All-American honors.

Scoring, rebounding, and spirit of Senior forward Dick Neal (No. 35) gave the Hoosiers added incentive in their Big Ten title bid.

The man behind the success of the squad—Coach Branch McCracken—views his charges with a watchful eye.

Jerry Thompson adds to Southern Illinois' troubles as he scores over the heads of two Saluki defenders.

The Dees-Neal defense combo ties up Buckeye ace Howard and . . .

thwarts a scoring attempt by Illinois' Don Ohl.

Pete Obrebsky falls victim to a sticky Northwestern Wildcat defense as teammate Dick Neal arrives too late to offer any assistance.

The squad looked good in almost every department. Dick Neal smashed the Big Ten record for field goal accuracy with a .512 percentage. Archie Dees amassed a total of 356 points in the fourteen Conference games for an average of 25.4 points per game. Hallie Bryant was in the running for the highest free-throw accuracy, but lost out late in the season to teammate Dees who chalked up .848, the highest percentage.

The Hoosiers will be hurt considerably by the graduation of Neal and Bryant, but Coach McCracken is counting on a highly talented Freshman squad to compensate for this loss.

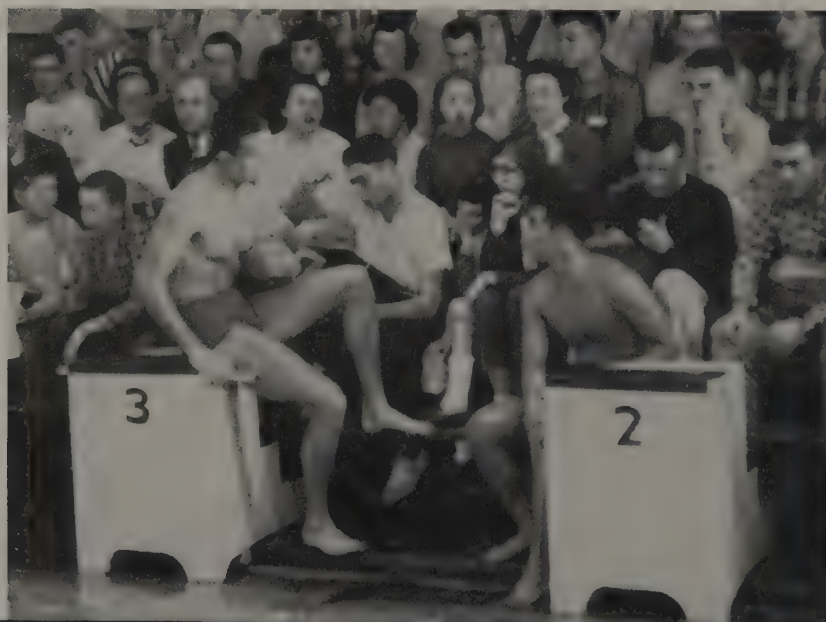

Hallie Bryant chalks up another point for the Hoosiers. Bryant was second only to Archie Dees in total points scored for the entire season.

SWIMMING

The two fastest 200-yard individual medley men in Big Ten history—MSU's Al Wiggins (left), present world's record holder, and Dick Tanabe, reminisce prior to a relay event.

Minot Schuman, a sincere competitor, teamed with Bobby Blann to handle the diving events.

The swimming team completed its season by taking a fourth place in the Big Ten championships at Minnesota. One of the mermen, Bill Woolsey, unofficially shattered the world record while attempting to retain his title in the 440-yard freestyle event.

The mermen won four and lost five meets in competition during the season.

The graduation of Bill Woolsey and Dick (Sonny) Tanabe will hurt the squad's '58 hopes; they will be replaced by several of this year's promising Freshmen aquamen.

Close relay events such as this rank high in spectator enthusiasm.

GYMNASTICS

ROW 1: Ron Walden, Ron David (Captain), Jerry Wright. ROW 2: Panya Chottikhun, Frank Zody, Otto Ryser (Coach).

Sophomore Ron Walden will see plenty of action when Coach Ryser's squad launches its 1958 campaign. Walden was one of the team's leading performers this season.

A veteran squad, sparked by six returning lettermen, proved the key factor in the gymnastics team's drive for a first-division conference finish.

Ron David captained this year's squad and was one of the team's outstanding performers. At his specialty, tumbling, he is rated as one of the best in the league.

Jerry Wright copped top honors all season with his performances on the trampoline.

Adding depth to the scoring attack were Ron Walden, Frank Zody, Ken Zody, Panya Chottikhun, and George Fisher.

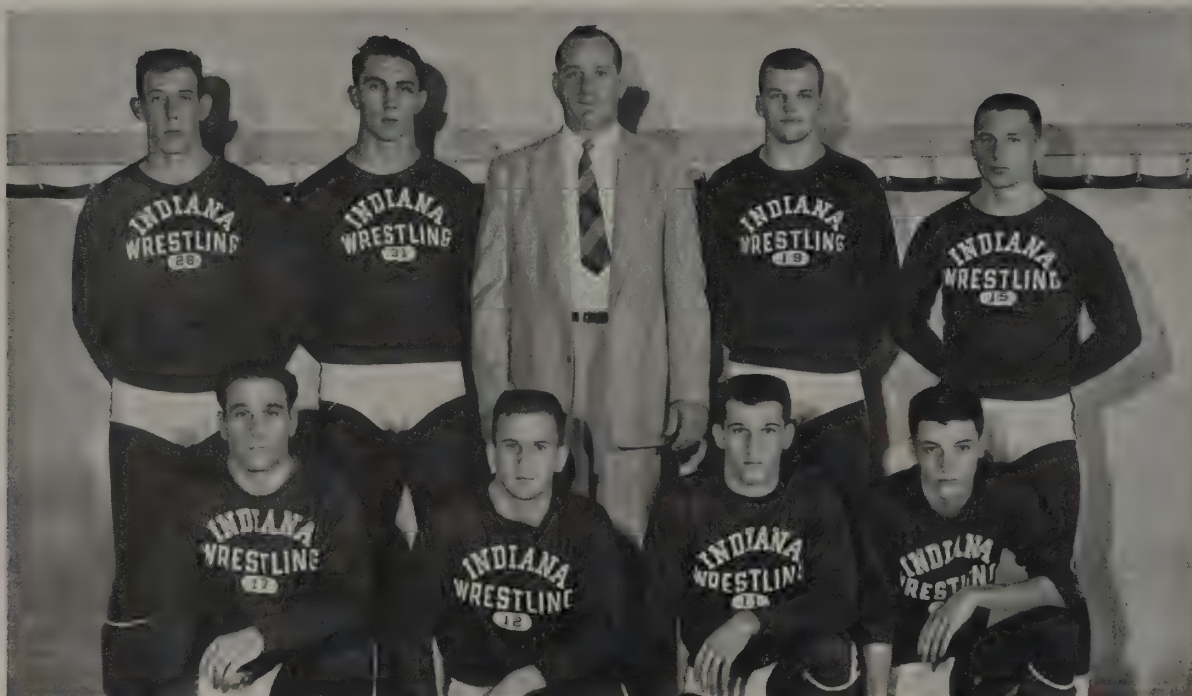

Senior Jeryl Wright performs a difficult twist on his specialty, the trampoline.

Team Captain Ron David gets in a last-minute practice session prior to a meet.

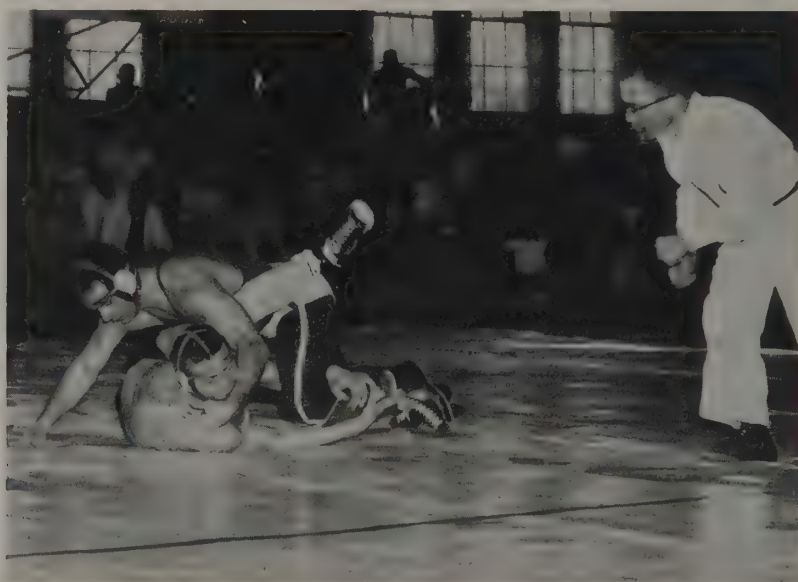

Ken Zody ranks tops among I-Men on the flying rings.

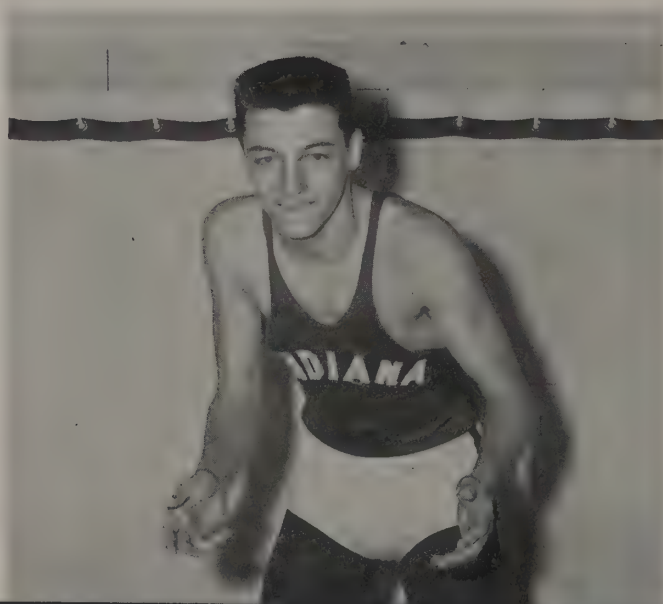

ROW 1: Bill Gallo, Don Morrison, Joe Shook and Paul Bane. ROW 2: Bob Killian, Walter Carnahan, Charles McDaniel (Coach), Fred Redeker and Norm Komorowski.

WRESTLING

IU's Bill Gallo (white trunks) compares skills with Larry Mosier of Iowa in the 165-pound class.

Paul Bane, bothered by injuries this season, will handle the 123-pound division assignment next year.

Norm Komorowski (white trunks), in action here against Ohio University's Dave Thomas, copped a fourth place in the Conference 147-pound championships.

Injuries riddled the ranks of the Hoosier matmen, who were forced to settle for a season of four wins, five losses and one tied match.

Joe Shook, Bill Gallo and Norm Komorowski handled the brunt of the scoring. The squad lacked depth because of the injury of top-rated Nick Petronka and several other key men during the season.

The entire team, excepting graduating Bob Killian, will be back in uniform next year, and Coach Charlie McDaniel is anticipating a top-notch club.

Joe Shook, shown here defeating Badger Charlie Prunty, placed second in the Big Ten 130-pound division. Shook, a Sophomore, compiled a season's total of nine wins and one defeat.

IU Rifle Club President, Max Meise, led the squad in total points scored.

RIFLE

The 1957 edition of IU's rifle squad was the product of a year of rebuilding following the loss of five men from the '56 team. The marksmen were aiming for a berth in the first division as they entered the Western Conference meet in April.

The squad, under the guidance of Capt. Jack M. Darden and M/Sgt. Millard W. Reed, was bolstered when Senior Tom Miller returned to the eligibility list.

Max Meise carried the brunt of the scoring punch this year. Meise, the team captain, amassed a total of 2,715 of a possible 3,000 points throughout the season.

Hans Wuelfing, top-ranking sophomore, tests his skill from the prone position.

ROW 1: Marvin Knecht, Tom Miller, Robert Denham, Lawrence Lauterbach, Ivan W. Greenhut. ROW 2: M/Sgt. Willard W. Reed, Roger Tillman (captain);

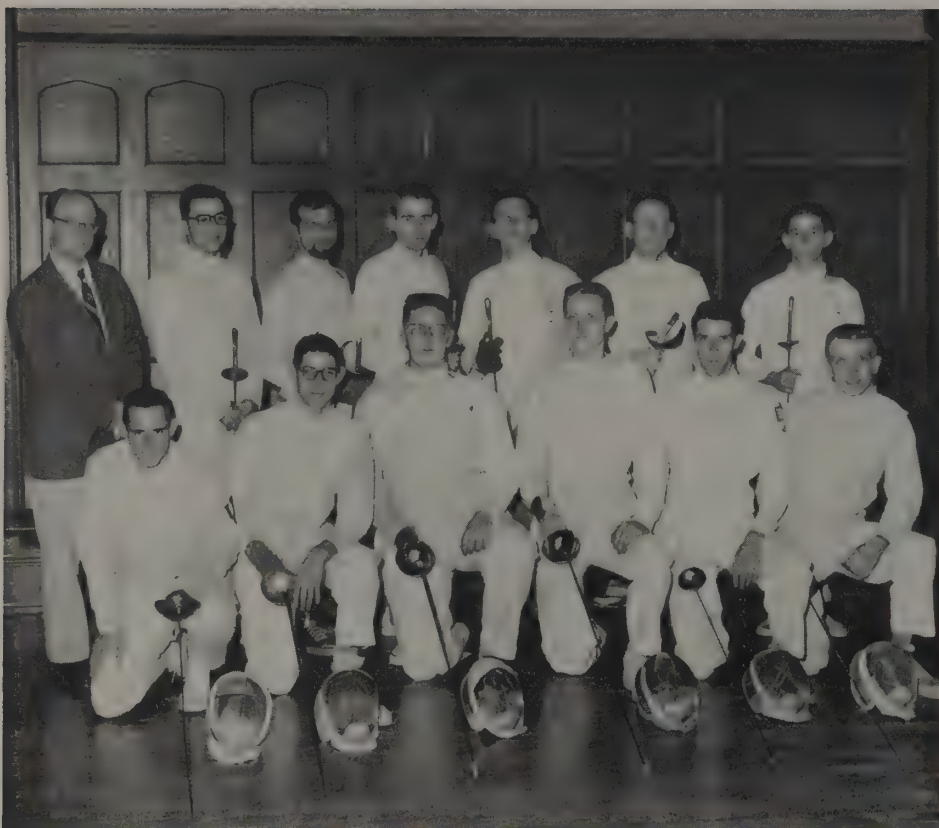

Mike Halus, Max Meise, Robert Urdal, Tom Althaus, Bill Shinn, Capt. Jack Darden.

The steady improvement of Sophomore Ivan R. Greenhut could prove a key factor in the coming '58 campaign.

M/Sgt. Reed eyes carefully the progress of marksman Mike Halus.

FENCING

Early defeats were responsible for the fencing team's posting a 4-8 seasonal record and a sixth place in the Big Ten. The Hoosier squad reached its peak when they upset a strong Ohio State squad that was ranked eighth in the nation.

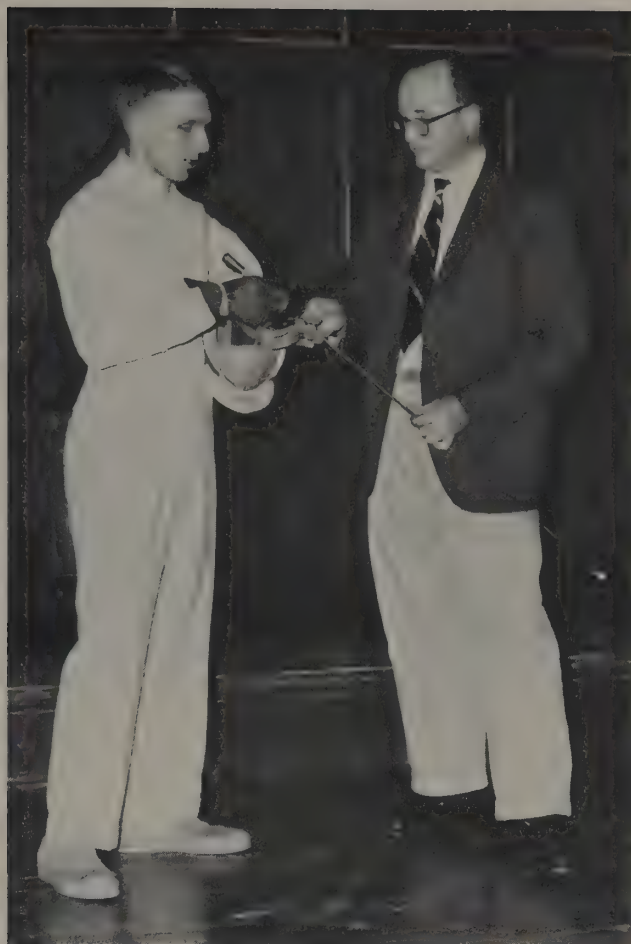

Team Captain Ron Stangl and Tom McNeil were the top competitors in the foil event. These two duelers copped first and second places, respectively, in the Amateur Fencing League of American Invitational meet.

Four of the top six men will graduate, leaving only Edward Uhles and Joe Rodenberg as holdovers for next year's squad.

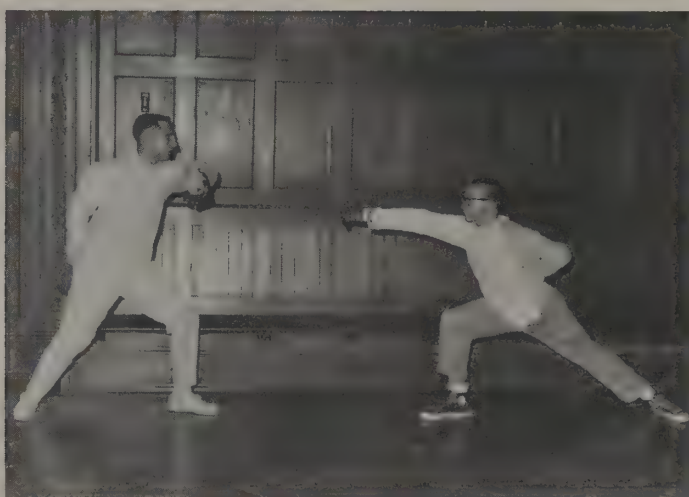

Don Norman's foil is stopped short of its mark by the defensive maneuvering of Tom McNeil.

Team Captain Ron Stangl and Coach Dr. Stuart MacClintock take time out for an equipment check.

George Peto (left) and George Murphy demonstrate the importance of good form in fencing. Both men will be eligible for action in '58.

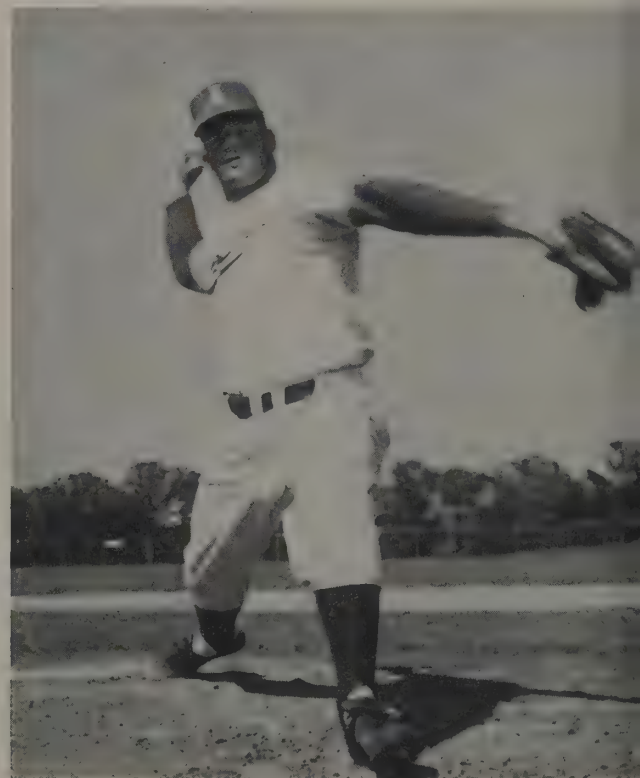

Harry Beratis (left) and Joe Rodenberg represented IU in the epee event.

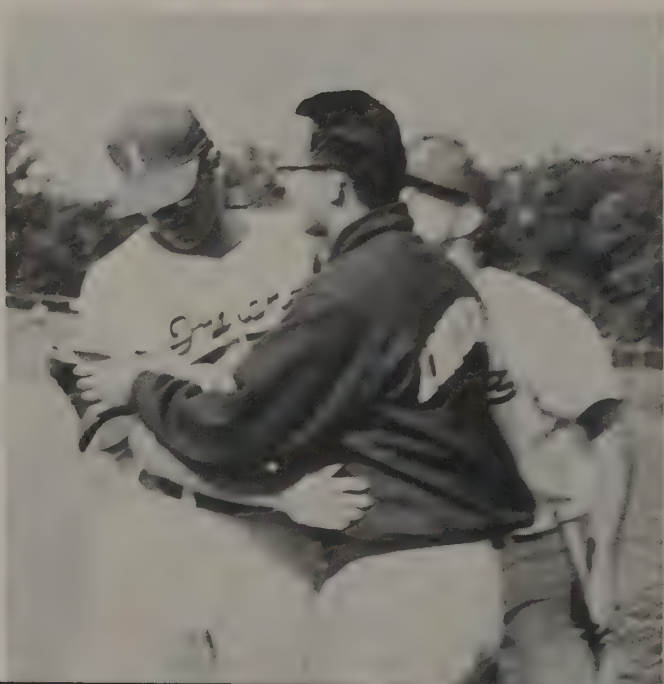

The crack of a bat announces the arrival of Spring and the baseball season.

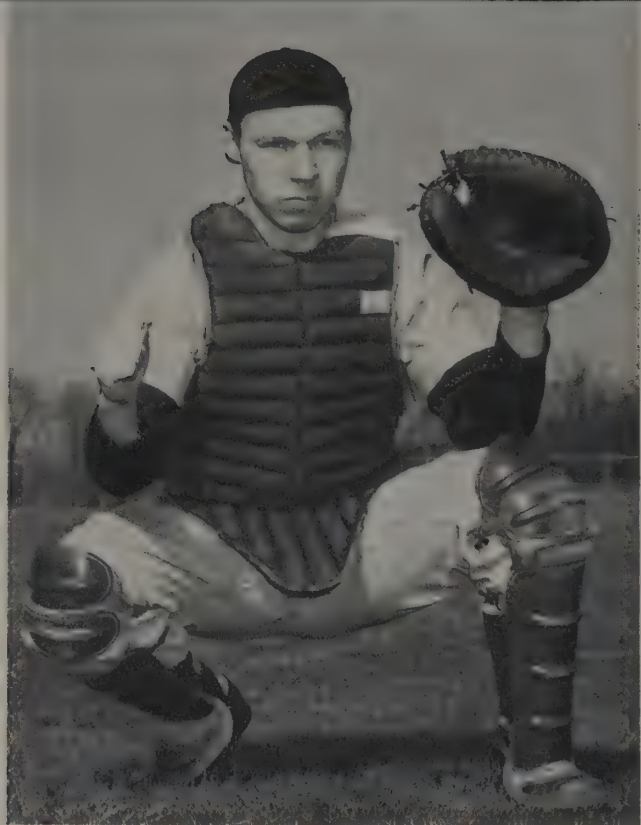

Bill Smith, who as a Sophomore last year was the squad's leading pitcher, will be out to repeat his performance this season.

Carl Kirkpatrick, shown here after smashing a 380-foot home run, will supply the power hitting.

Dick James will assume the catching duties.

With ten lettermen, including two ex-servicemen, Indiana baseball coach Ernie Andres is hoping for a climb upward from the team's sixth place finish in the Western Conference in 1956.

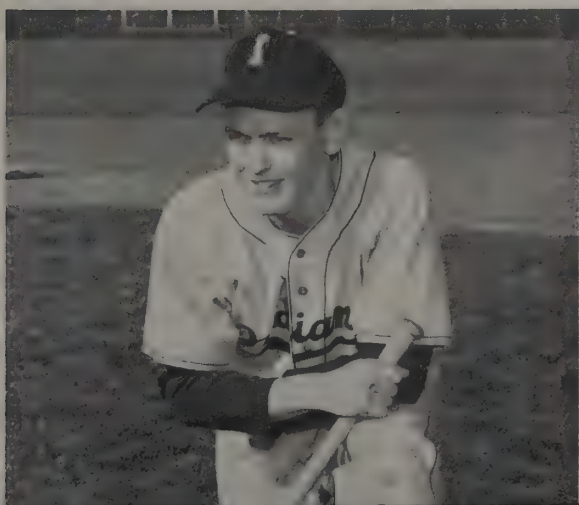

Four of Andres' mound staff are veteran varsity performers; lefthander Carl McCollum, and righthanders Al Hayes, Bill Smith, and Woody Ratterman all saw regular duty last year as did team captain Norm Franklin and Joe Mills, both outfielders, first-baseman Carl Kirkpatrick, and catcher Dick James. Outfielder Bob Beres and catcher Norm Young have recently returned from the Armed Forces.

This nucleus will be complemented by Dick Mrofka, sophomore pitching prospect, and outfielders Jim Howe, Buck Smith, Amos Hall, John Courter, infielder Bill Anderson, and junior flinger Mel Erman. First sacker Kirkpatrick should receive some help from sophomore Arnie Heltzer this year.

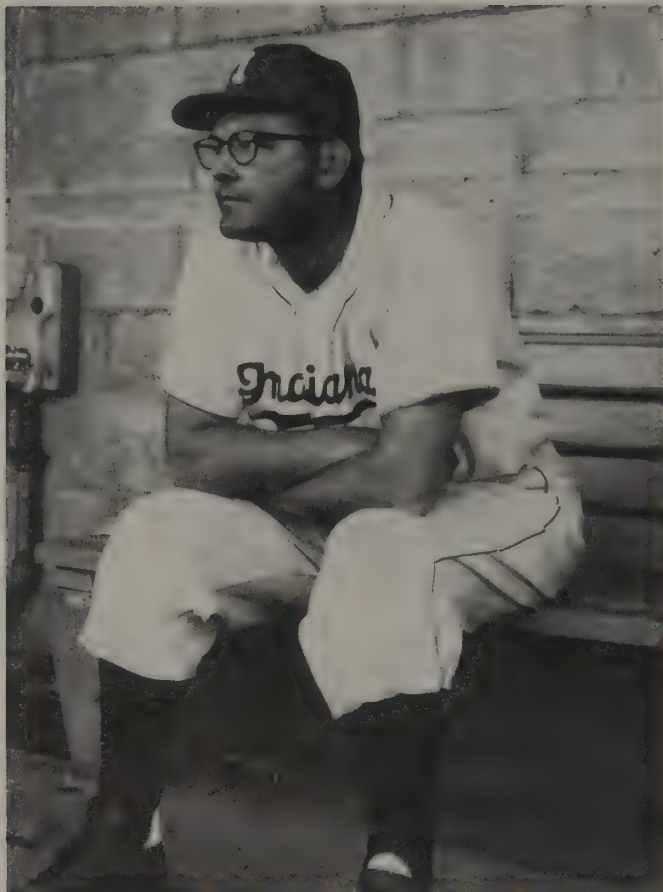

Seniors Gus Sjolhm, Bill Noone, Norm Koselke, and junior Pete Hicks are battling for infield jobs.

Veteran Joe Mills, a good all-around player, will figure strongly in Coach Andres' campaign plans for the 1957 season.

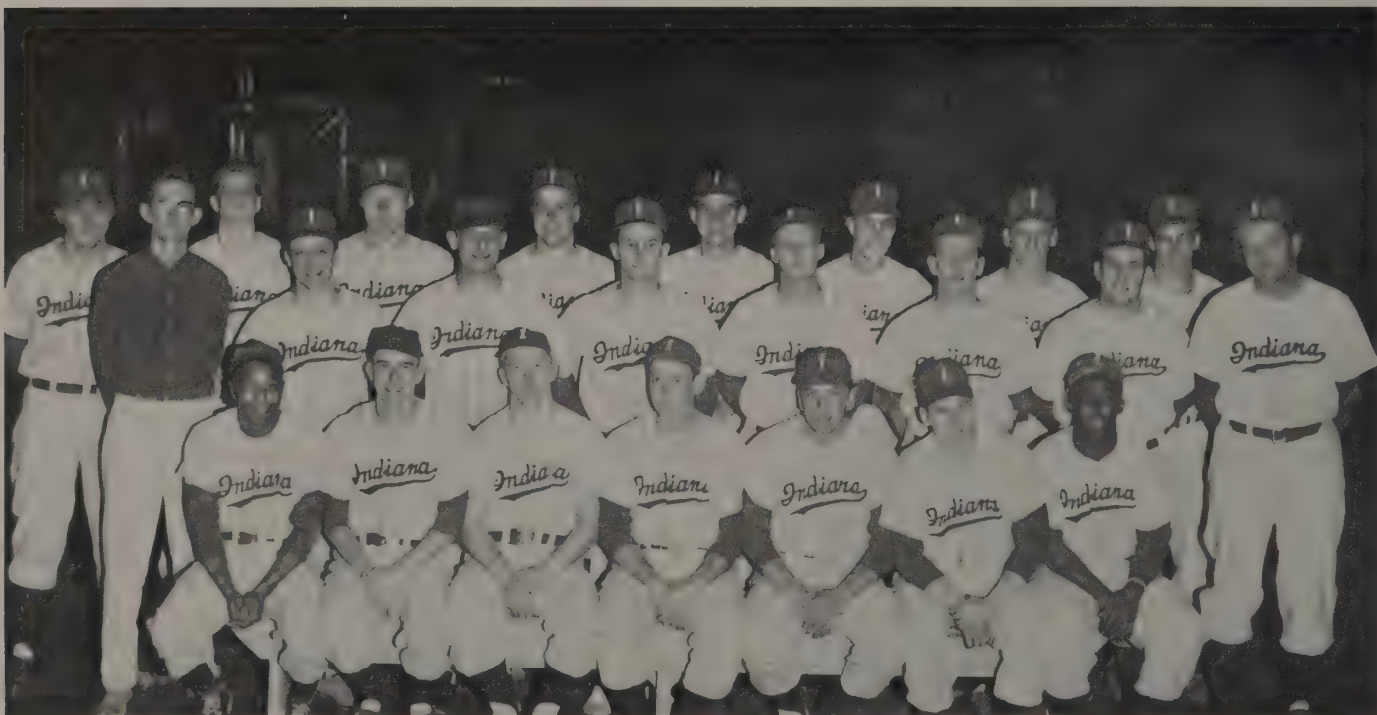

Co-captain Duffy Franklin, top-notch defensive player, will start at one of the outfield positions.

Coach Ernie Andres, having lost seven seniors through graduation, will be faced with the task of building a new team.

CROSS COUNTRY

Frank DeVestern, Narverne Wille, Tom Linnemeier, Bill Abele, Tony Pentino.

Tom Linnemeier, always a strong competitor, will be one of the key men in next season's plans.

Underclassmen sparked the 1956 Indiana cross country team. Sophomores Ron Long and Bill Abele were the mainstays of the young squad, as Coach Gordon Fisher's thinlies turned in some outstanding performances.

After dropping its opener to Miami of Ohio, the harriers broke an eight game winning streak for Notre Dame by edging the Irish 23-22. The Hoosiers then won a three-way meet with Marquette and Western Michigan. Lack of balance was responsible for the team's placing third in the Big Ten and 8th in the NCAA meet.

The outlook looks bright as the Hoosiers seek to better their record in the 1957 season. Losing only Max Fiscus from this year's roster, the team should possess the depth and experience needed to compile a respectable record.

The consistency of senior co-captain Max Fiscus helped the Hoosiers in their bid for a first division finish.

TRACK

A favorable combination of experience and depth adds up to bright prospects for the 1957 Indiana track team. With a nucleus of eleven returning lettermen to build around, Coach Gordon Fisher will have some potent performers to strengthen IU's prestige in the Big Ten.

Outstanding among these is Olympic broad jump champ Greg Bell, holder of last year's indoor and outdoor Big Ten and National Collegiate broad jump titles. Shot-putter Jerry Lane holds the IU indoor mark, and Brealon Donaldson is IU's first fourteen foot pole-vaulter.

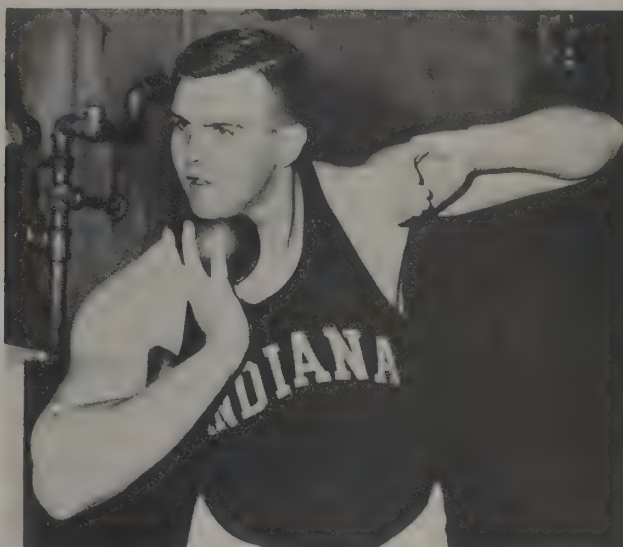

The Hoosiers, who lost seven of last year's lettermen, have a promising array of sophomores to bolster over-all squad strength.

Don Ward, outdoor 440-yard dash king, tied the Big Ten record with a time of 47.7 seconds.

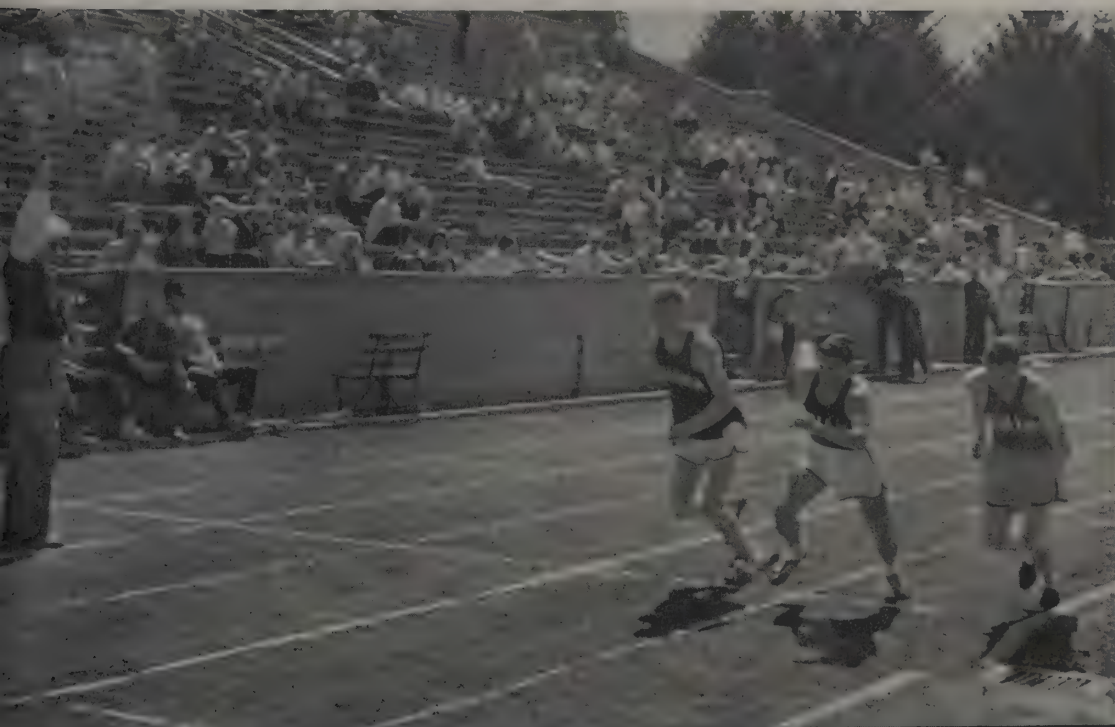

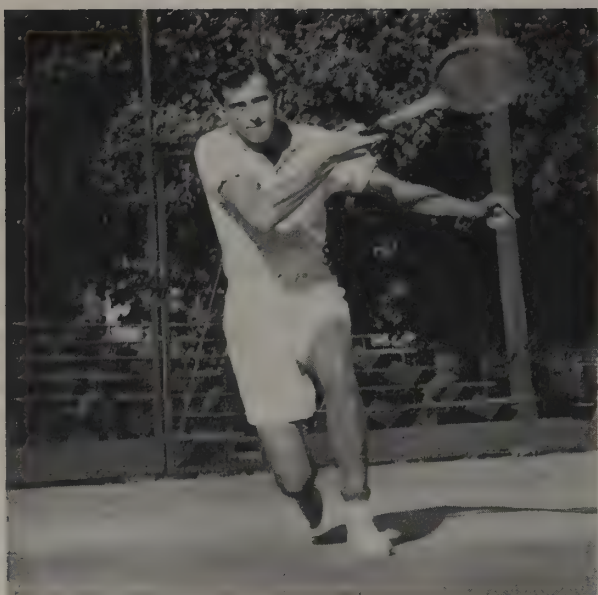

Big Ten Indoor champ Willie May (leading) and Tom Campbell (left) combined to handle the brunt of the high hurdle assignments.

Shot-putter Jerry Lane cracked the all-time IU record for this event with a toss of 54 feet 3¼ inches.

Pre-race tension finds its release at the sound of the starting gun.

Eligibility of Jerry Parchute will prove a valuable asset to the squad.

TENNIS

With three Big Ten titles in the past five years, the Hoosier netmen should continue their supremacy of the courts with the efforts of such stars as Elam Huddleston, Ken Dillman, George Fryman and Jerry Parchute.

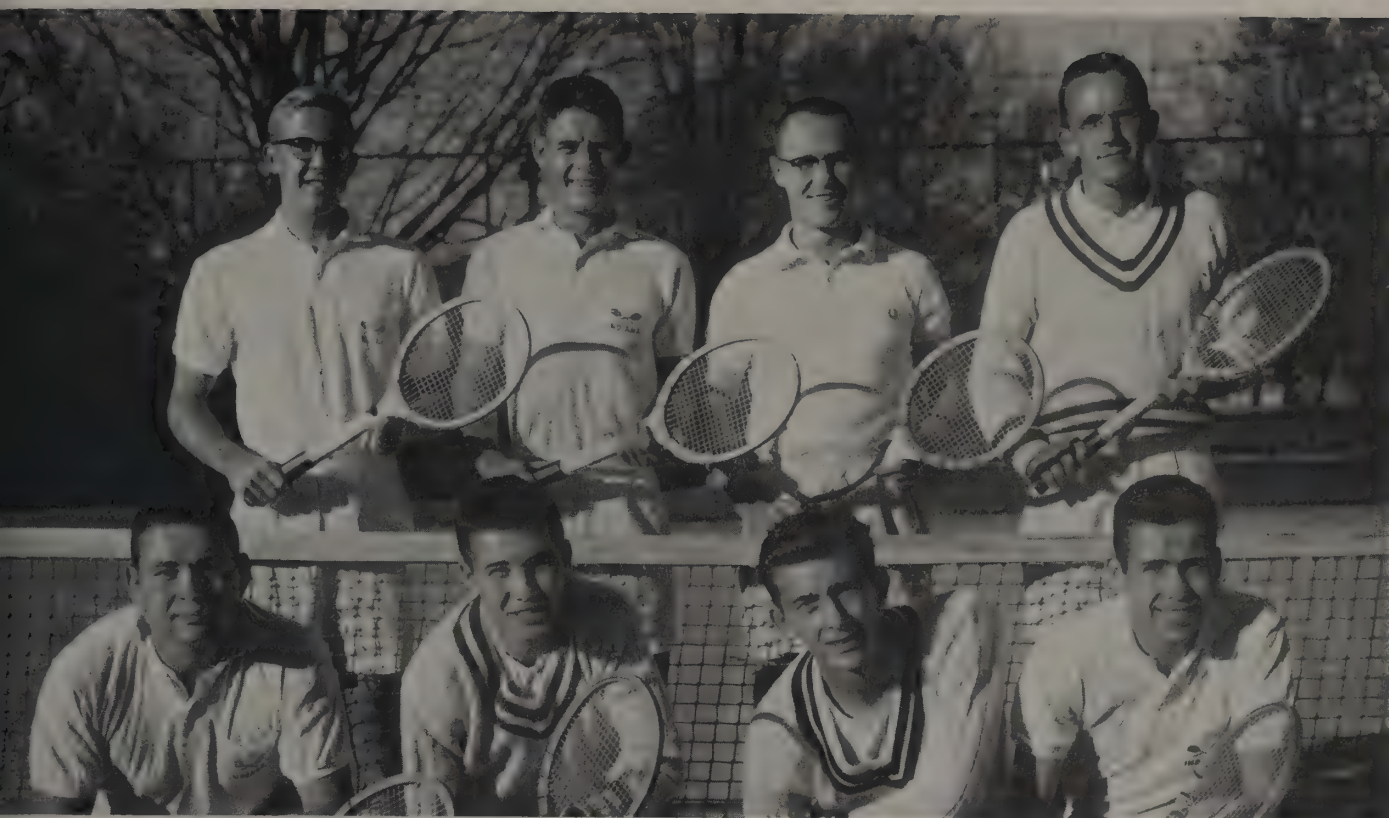

Huddleston copped Big Ten honors in both singles and doubles competition, while Dillman was also victorious in singles and teamed with George Fryman for a doubles trophy. Parchute, who was ineligible last season, should add plenty of depth to the Cream and Crimson attack.

This year's Big Ten race promises to be a tight one. Defending champ Michigan has the same squad returning which copped last year's title, while several other schools pose serious threats to Hoosier hopes.

Team captain Elam Huddleston will be out to retain his divisional singles and doubles championships.

ROW 1: Elam Huddleston (captain), Bill Petric, Jerry Parchute, Bob Gray. ROW 2: George Fryman, Jay Grimes, Ken Dillman, and Dale Lewis (Coach)

The consistent performance of veteran Ken Dillman should add the depth necessary for a championship team.

Senior George Fryman will team with Dillman to seek the doubles crown.

Martin Angell sinks a long one for a "Birdie."

Lady Luck and the weather man joined forces to plague the varsity golf team during the first half of its season.

Coach Owen L. "Chili" Cochrane prophesied at mid-season that the team had a good chance to improve its stature, and that—with a few breaks—the squad could figure quite prominently in the coming spring tournaments.

Optimism brightens next year's golf horizon. In addition to the returning lettermen the outlook is brightened by the coming eligibility of this year's freshman squad, which is one of the finest in the country. Next year's squad will have what it takes to play an important role in blazing the trail to a banner era in IU golf.

GOLF

Tom Coble, Dick Barth, John Hamilton, Ronnie Royer.

Teeing off for a long drive is IU's Darl Kriete.

The experience of senior Jack Rouhier will prove an advantage to the sophomore-laden '58 club.

ROW 1: Bob Ganchiff, Clarence Donninger, Mike Whitesell, Larry Owen, Jim West, Bruce Baker. ROW 2: Don

Rees, Woody Ratterman, Gus Sjolholm, Jack Winnefeld, Sam Fitzsimmons.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

I-M wrestling is gaining recognition in growing spectator sports world.

Quick action rises to a rapid peak in men's table tennis tournament.

Intramural sports provide all with the opportunity to participate in organized competition. This year nearly 3000 men turned out for the nineteen activities sponsored by the program.

Sigma Nu fraternity captured the first major title, the football championship, by downing Phi Gamma Delta 18-0. The victory boosted Sigma Nu high in the point standings as the teams turned to basketball and the winter sports.

Top Spring sport from the standpoint of spectator enthusiasm is softball, which often decides the winner of the coveted championship trophy.

Tom Herendeen of Phi Gamma Delta tests the left side of the Sigma Nu line in the football championship struggle, won by Sigma Nu 18-0.

Phi Gamma Delta, aiming for their sixth intramural crown in the last eight years, had compiled a slight lead over their nearest opponent, Sigma Nu, as March approached. Dodds House Gargoyles, consistently the top independent team, Zeta Beta Tau, Phi Delta Theta and Phi Kappa Psi followed closely.

With tennis, softball, track and field and several minor sports yet to be completed, the race for the title promises to be a tight one to the finish.

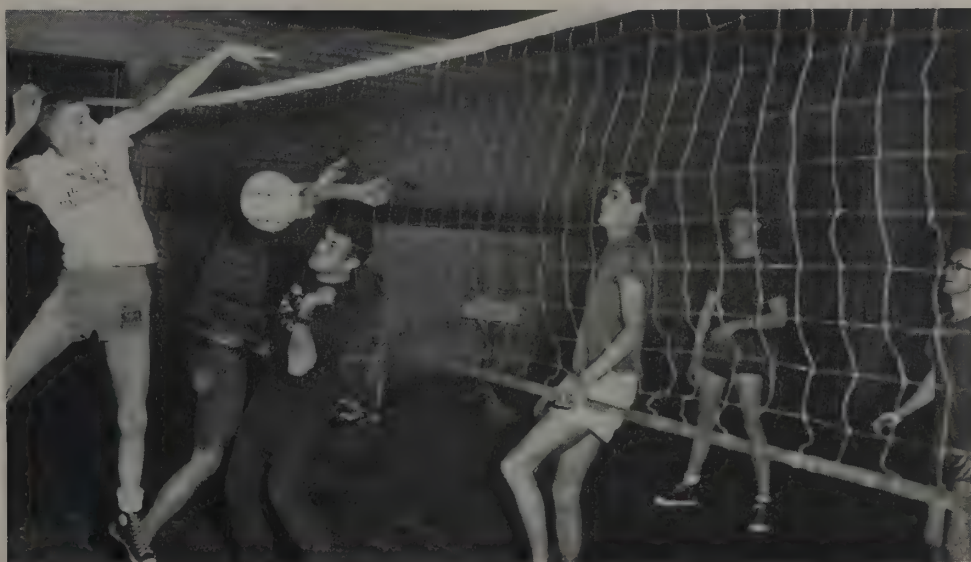

Huddled together, a team plans its strategy for victory.

Basketball excels all other sports for both team and crowd enthusiasm.

Joe Matuga (right) and Jack Sheard battle it out for the handball championship. Matuga was the victor, two games to one.

Kurt Carlisle leaps high to spike across a Kappa Sigma tally.

Pre-game tension is climaxed as the centers fight for control of the tip.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

Carol Levy prepares to tee-off, as fellow players lend a critical eye in hopes of picking up a few pointers.

Martha Hartzell and Diane Barber take advantage of a warm-up session prior to game time.

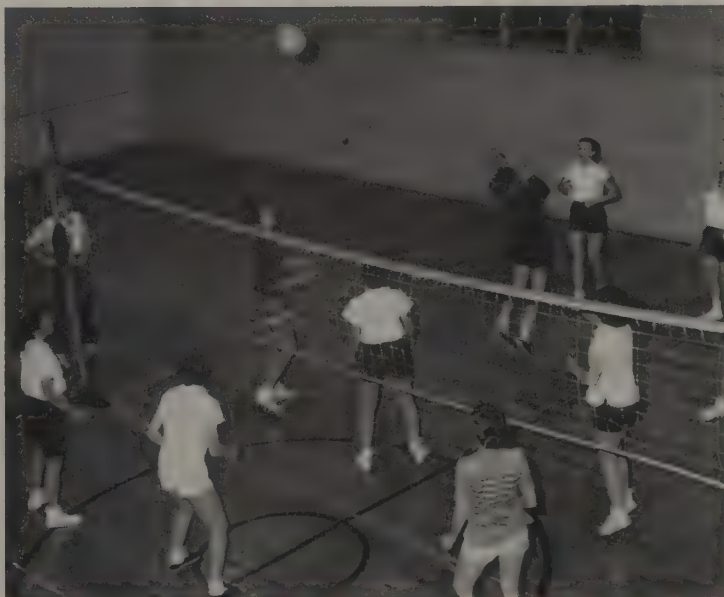

Softball—Intramural style—provides a combination of competition, exercise and enjoyment.

Athletics with the feminine touch is provided by the women's intramural program. The women participate in practically every major sport except football. The activities offered are basketball, softball, swimming, volleyball, golf, tennis, badminton, table tennis and bowling.

The program is run by the Women's Recreational Association with the assistance of a faculty adviser for each sport. The WRA is currently considering plans for widening the range of activities available to the student body to meet the school's increasing enrollment.

All eyes fall tensely on the ball in its graceful overhead flight.

Plenty of action is seen when that extra point is needed.

Kappa Kappa Gamma mermaids—Betsy Schnaiter, Pat Moll, Marge Scheidler and Margot Rowley—will be out to repeat a four-year Kappa supremacy of the swimming events.

Student government was established to encourage democratic action and to discuss and formulate student policies. The administrative power of this government is entrusted to the President of the Student Body. This year an administrative secretary has served in the Senate office to increase efficiency in the clerical duties of student government. The secretary has also handled the details of the student insurance program, which is now in its second year of operation.

This year Indiana University Student Government has joined the Collegiate Council for the United Nations. This improved the LUNA program by broadening its scope of international affairs. During Orientation Week, a new student program was designed to give the Freshmen a general view of campus activities. A brochure on student government and other campus activities was planned to be sent out to incoming Freshmen, in hopes that they can gain insight into campus organization policy before they meet it face to face. This year the Student Senate passed a revision of the Election Code and Class Constitutions and repealed the Activities Limitation System.

PRESIDENT'S CABINET

The Student Supreme Court is the highest student judicial body on campus. The court reviews cases brought before it by residence judicial boards and other student organizations. The nine members of the Supreme Court are selected every Spring by the President of the Student Body after conferring with the retiring Chief Justice. They must have a 2.1 scholastic average and be thoroughly acquainted with campus government and activities.

This year, under the leadership of Kent Arvin, Chief Justice, the Court conferred on decisions of campus judicial bodies and handed down non-partisan and objective decisions.

The directors of each of the three branches of student government, Kent Arvin, Clarence Doninger, and Ron Yenerich attempt to reach a unanimous decision.

Doninger, Brad Bomba, Al Bergstedt, Neil Hinchman. ROW 3: Jim Soukup, Jerry Moss, Ed Whalen, Ron Yenerich, Jim Platt.

The Board of Aeons is composed of twelve undergraduate men selected by President Wells on the basis of outstanding ability in both leadership and scholarship. The Board serves as a liaison between the administration and the student body to see that the administration is aware of student interests.

The Board of Aeons was organized by William Lowe Bryan in 1921. Since then they have not come into the open with their activities, believing that this policy will lead the way to more effective work.

This year the Board of Aeons has been working to see that the new Humanities Building is named after William Lowe Bryan. The Board also studied the structure of the student-faculty committees and looked into the academic counseling program. The Board of Aeons also checked the distribution of finances to student activities with the hope that funds can be distributed as equally as possible.

Jim Soukup and Jorgen Rasmussen conduct a cabinet investigation. Wayne Kimmel agrees with Jerry Moss that it has to be an inside job.

Charlie Schwartz, Neil Hinchman, Al Bergstedt, and Brad Bomba require no audience when they play their wild jungle chant.

Cleaning up campus rubbish? Jim Platt, Ed Whalen, and Ron Yenerich are ready to give Clarence Doninger the brush-off.

Members of AWS get together for an informal chat. In the front row are Harriet Hersh, Sandy Duke, and Linda Walker. Seated on the davenport are Linda Silver and Linda Zaft.

The AWS Board of Standards is the policy making body for the women students on campus. It sets women's hours and other related matters. Members of the Board include two women from each class and the Chairman is also Vice-president of AWS. This year the AWS Board of Standards brought many of the old rules up-to-date.

Last Spring at the AWS Mass Meeting the women students of IU elected the members of the AWS Council. Other members representing Panhellenic, WRH, YWCA, WRA, and the Town Girls form the remainder of the seventeen member council. The purpose of the council is to assist the AWS officers in the administration of their duties.

AWS Council was established at Indiana University in 1928. Today it serves many important functions. AWS Council represents the women in general campus issues, establishes and maintains high social standards, encourages active participation in many areas of responsibility, and encourages high academic standards.

This year AWS Council has worked on such projects as the AWS Health Series and the Charm Clinic. The biggest project of the year was the passage of the revised AWS Constitution.

Kay Baldwin, Doris Rhinesperger, Louise Bamberger, and Pat Fleming are the officers who guide the activities of AWS.

AWS BOARD OF STANDARDS

Union Board President, Neil Hinchman and Vice-president, Jim Platt, plan future Union events.

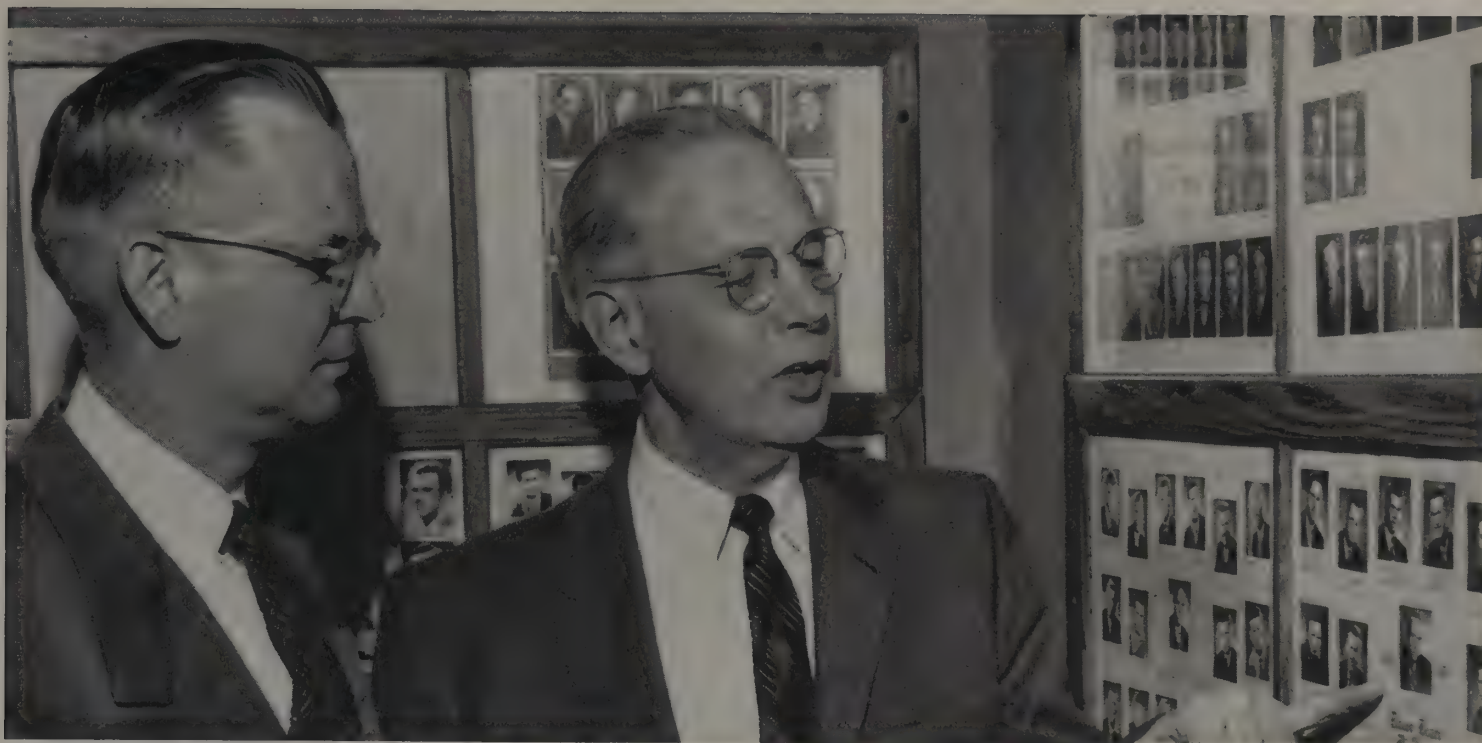

The Indiana Union—the Commons—a headquarters for many campus activities—the scene for many dances—and presently expanding to include tremendous facilities. The Union is also a board—the Union Board—of twelve people who direct group activities, the Fall Carnival, numerous “pop” concerts, and serve as the planning committee for dozens of campus social events.

Under the direction of Carol Creed, Program Co-ordinator and Harold W. Jordan, Director, and advised by Dean Robert Shaffer and Dr. Lusk, the members of the Union Board and their committee chairmen are responsible for many of the all-campus social functions. The influence of the Union reaches into the daily lives of all the students at Indiana University.

Barry Bergsman, Director of Publicity, and Bob Shula, Director of the Social Division, discuss publicity for a coming Union dance.

Robert H. Shaffer and Dr. Harold Lusk watch the members of past Union Boards pass in review as they help to plan the policies for future Union Board activities.

SENIOR CLASS

There comes a time in every college student's life when at last he becomes a Senior. This means student teaching, job interviews, and preparation to leave the university. Before he leaves he makes plans for Senior Week, the week when he is considered the supreme citizen of the campus. The preparations for Senior Week begin with the selection of a Steering Committee.

The Senior Class president, Ron Schneider, and the other class officers led the class through their Senior Week. The activities of the big week included coffee hours in the Commons, donation of a gift to the University, and the Senior Siwash. Then in June—graduation—the last big event for the Seniors of 1957.

Laswell, Fred Blackwell, Judy Blake, Martha Hartzell (Secretary).

JUNIOR CLASS

ROW 1: Jerry Grove (Director), Ed Whalen (President), Nancy Jones (Secretary), Sandy Kemp (Director), Pat Fleming (Director), Nancy Blaisdell (Vice-president), Jerry Ball (Treasurer), Glenn Schowe (Director).

Bernie Minkow, Dorothy Kretsch, Joy Lambert, Bob Edwards, Sharon Diggs, Mary Brown, Jim Koehlinger, Sherman Arnold, Jack Douglas discuss big plans for the Junior Prom.

Guided by their president, Ed Whalen, the Junior Class had a busy year. As time went by, more and more Juniors took an active part in campus activities. They highlighted the year by presenting the Junior Prom, "Pink Carousel." Appropriately, the theme selected for Junior Week was "Mad Merry-Go-Round." At the end of the year the Juniors looked back with pride on their numerous activities.

The Sophomore class came back to campus self-confident in the realization that they were no longer freshmen. The officers selected the Sophomore Steering Committee, who planned the "Cotton Cotillion," the Sophomore dance. After the excitement of the Cotillion, the members of the class busied themselves with other campus activities.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Freshman Tyronian Steering Committee members are: ROW 1: Steve Kline, John Nash, Joe Greenlee and ROW 2: Lynn Whybrew, Mary Ann Setre, Mary Ann Pulse, and Susie Dienhart.

Awareness of campus life and a sense of belonging to it came quickly to the Freshman student. Soon he was caught up in the whirl of activities. His officers were elected, but before he had the opportunity to relax, it was Freshman Tyronian time. The officers were kept busy conferring on appointments for the steering committee, which planned the Tyronian, one of the most important campus dances. Then the dance was over and the Freshmen moved back into the routine of college life.

Developing the student spirit at Indiana University is one of the goals of the Student Athletic Committee. SAC is a new organization at Indiana University, organized in the Fall, 1956.

The Student Athletic Committee is composed of Junior and Senior members selected by President Wells and Athletic Director Frank Allen. The activities of SAC included planning and co-ordinating the pep rallies, sponsoring open houses, welcome-home rallies and send-off rallies for both football and basketball teams. The members of SAC work closely with the Athletic Director and the individual coaches to promote top-notch school spirit.

The Student Foundation Committee work out the rules and regulations for the Little 500 and plan the event in a very detailed manner. Each year the Student Foundation Committee streamlines the Little 500 to meet higher standards. The Little 500 is only a part of the total picture. ## WRH EXECUTIVE BOARD

Judy Gasaway, Sandy Duke (President), Linda Johnson (Treasurer), Gloria Randle (Secretary), Joyce Funk, Judy Manta, Judy Eggers.

The thirteen presidents of the women's residence halls constitute the WRH Executive Board, the policy-making body for Women's Residence Halls. During Board meetings, individual housing problems are discussed, general policies are formulated, and counselor-student administration is planned. The Executive Board also is given the opportunity to approve plans for new dorms. An area director, Miss Fitzgerald, and the director of counseling and activities, Dr. Helen Whiteside, serve as Board advisers.

Five Board members are officers. Other members head the committees of Publicity, Clerical, Social, Library, Constitution and Election, Co-ordinate, and Awards and Recognition. The President of the Executive Board acts as a liaison between campus organizations and the individual residents of the halls. In this way, girls who live in the dorms are brought into contact with campus organizations.

WRH Judicial Board members are, ROW 1: Mary Lou Dowell, Nancy Berkey, Mrs. Thomas Greenwood (Adviser), Dene Yalowitz. ROW 2: Nancy Singleton, Nia Scopelitis, Pat Taylor, Linda Silver.

The men's dorms at Indiana University are governed by the Men's Residence Halls Association. Membership in the Association includes the President, Vice-president, and Secretary from each of the three residence centers, Men's Quad, MRC, and Trees Center, and the President of MRHA. The purpose of the Association is to represent the men who live in University Housing in all phases of campus life. MRHA works to improve the scholarship, social life, and general living of the men in the residence halls.

Dick Cross, Randy Miller, and Norm Baxter take note as Jerry Grove works toward harmony.

Directing the activities and establishing the policies of the Men's Quad is the purpose of the Men's Quadrangle Board of Governors. In addition to the eighteen unit governors, the Board is composed of the President, the Vice-president, and the Secretary. Each governor heads his Unit Council which includes the social chairman, athletic chairman, scholarship chairman, secretary, and the treasurer.

The Board of Governors began the year with a workshop training program for the new officers. This year four all-Quad dances were sponsored by the Board of Governors. In the Bachelor of the Year contest, the Quad's candidate, Randy Miller, became a finalist. In the Spring, the Board of Governors ended its work with a Recognition Banquet for old and new officers. At this Banquet the three outstanding units, the outstanding freshman and upperclassman of each unit, and the outstanding governor were honored.

Randy Miller, Jerry Grove, Gene Fowler, and Don Miller show the notorious Men's Quad spirit.

The MRC Board of Governors is composed of the governors from West Hall, North Hall, South Hall, and the Cottage Groves. The Board helps to unify activities of MRC and to compare the policies of each individual unit. The goal of the MRC Board is to create better relationships among the men. This is done by co-ordinating the various departments of each dorm government to improve the total picture. The Board sponsors various social activities and dances.

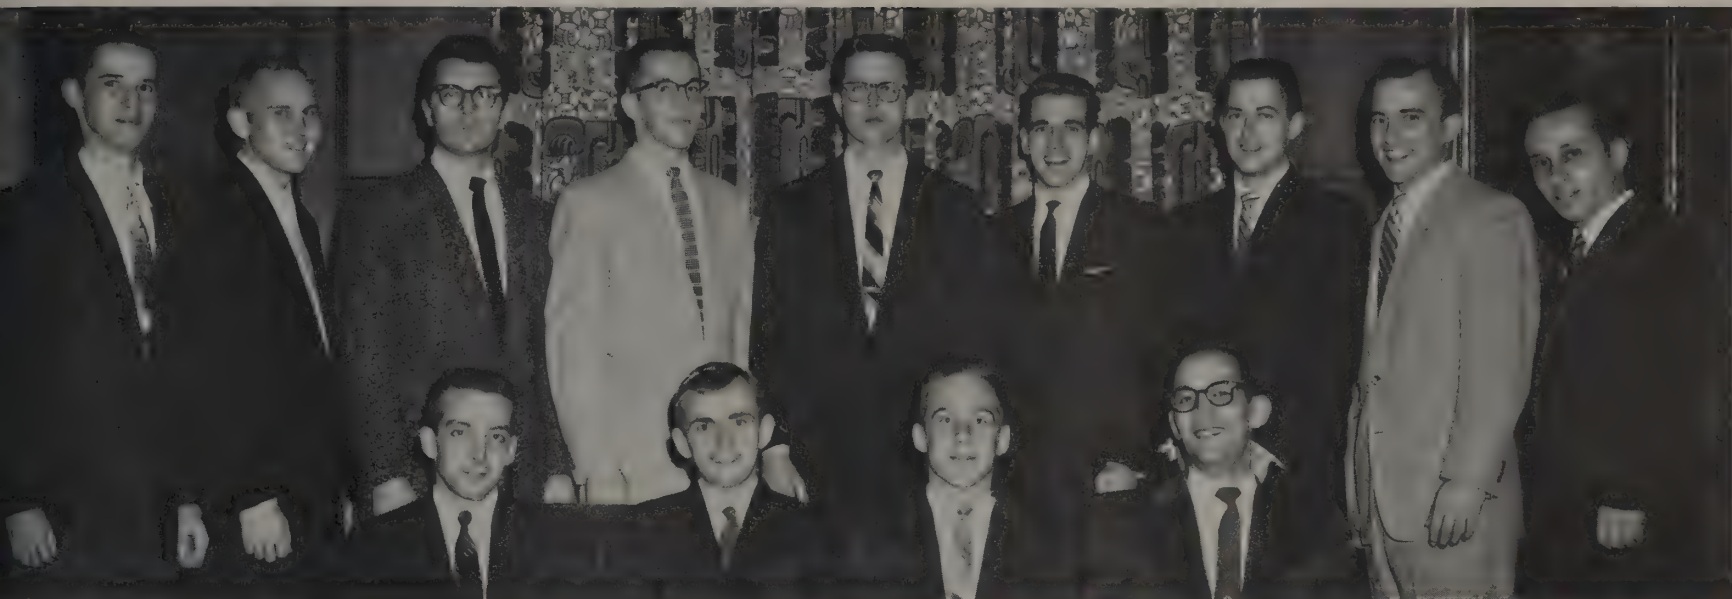

Burt Sweetow, Chuck Jones, and Norm Baxter have discovered a plan which appears ready to catch fire.

PANHELLENIC

Snyder (Secretary), Judy Pritchard, Rosemary Williams, Mary Ann Farcus, Lucinda Benzel (Treasurer).

The Indiana University Panhellenic Association is the governing body for all sororities on the campus. Panhellenic Council acts as a co-ordinator for individual sororities and conducts rush. Panhellenic also acts as the sorority judicial board.

Junior Panhellenic, an organization of pledge class officers, is a part of the "Panhel" program. The rush counselors, who advise Freshman girls with problems concerning rush and pledging, are another important unit of Panhellenic.

This year "Panhel" devised a new rush procedure and put out a revised informative bulletin about sorority life for freshman girls. In pledge workshop, a training manual for pledge trainers was formulated. Greek Week activities, including the workshop, banquet, and all-campus dance are sponsored jointly by Panhellenic and Interfraternity Council.

Nancy Crouch, Cindy Benzel, Kay Snyder, Nancy Jones, and Mary Ann Farcus stand by as Marlene Braun reviews and previews important Panhel projects.

Jack Pumnea (Treasurer), Clint Warkow (President), Jerry Stump, Don Grande.

The Interfraternity Council is the governing body for all social fraternities on campus. In this capacity it enacts, administers, and enforces the rules by which fraternities are guided. IFC works to promote unity among all fraternity men and to create a friendly interfraternity relationship. IFC was founded on the IU campus in 1912.

IFC officers Gene McGarvey, Jack Pumnea, Clint Warkow, and Bill Pomp get down to business.

This year in an effort to improve the relationship between college and city, the IFC sponsored a pledge project to improve the appearance of Bloomington parks. This council has also been discussing housing contracts for the fraternity system similar to those used by university housing. IFC is making preliminary plans for a new and improved rush program. The biggest project of the year has been the completion of a 14-minute color film about fraternity pledgship. This film is being sent to IFC's throughout the United States.

A tough decision? IFC Judicial Board members Don Grande, Larry Lauterbach, Ron Yenerich (Chairman), Tom Ferverda, and Lloyd Milliken confer.

Junior Interfraternity Council organizes the fraternity pledges of the campus in a group similar to IFC. JIFC seeks to promote pledge unity and to give the pledges a clearer understanding of fraternity life.

This year the JIFC sponsored an all-pledge dance and helped to organize a community pledge project.

Gene Dougliis, Don Weaver, and Don Thompson must foresee a bright future for JIFC projects.

Mert Harcourt, Judy Manta, Nancy Crouch, and Barb Bassett must be pleased about plans for the Dames' Ball.

Mortar Board is a national activities honorary for senior women. Each Spring, women who are outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and service are "tapped" for membership. Members of this honorary are easily recognized by the tassel pins and the white blazer jackets with the blue and gold insignia which they wear. A woman who is selected for membership in Mortar Board must have maintained a minimum 1.8 grade average while she was serving as a leader in campus activities.

The Dames Ball, a formal girl-ask-boy dance, is planned each year by the members of Mortar Board. Other projects of this honorary include the Mortar Board Retreat, the sale of Mortar Board calendars, and the presentation of scholarships to distinguished and deserving women. Among the many service projects of this organization is the Sophomore Recognition Tea, given each Spring to honor sophomore girls who have been outstanding in their activity and academic life. The projects of Mortar Board demonstrate the desire which its members have to serve the Indiana University campus.

The Junior and Senior men selected for membership in Blue Key are those who have achieved above-average scholastic standing and have proved themselves as leaders in activities. Twice each year new members are selected by the unanimous vote of the active members subject to the approval of the President of Indiana University.

The men of Blue Key seek to study student problems, enrich student life, and work co-operatively to achieve the best interests of the University.

Each coed considered for membership must have a minimum 1.5 grade average, and have shown leadership and active participation in at least two prominent campus functions.

Pleiades was organized to honor coeds who have distinguished themselves in the academic and social fields, and to promote an even greater interest among its members to continue their achievements.

ROW 1: Ron Schneider. ROW 2: Don Leak, Kent Arvin, Neil Hinchman, Brad Bomba, Ed Whalen. ROW 3: Joe Hughes, Clarence Doninger, Ron Yenerich, Mike Brutton, Dennis Runyan, Jim Platt.

Dragon's Head is a boress honorary for men. Only the presidents or top leaders of major campus activities are eligible for membership.

Dragon's Head is the one activity to which its members belong that requires no strenuous duties or hard work. Members are encouraged to get together, boress, tell jokes, and generally have fun.

Organized in 1934, Dragon's Head has built up a reputation for fast talking, political maneuvering, and enthusiastic participation in campus life. Indiana University life would definitely not be the same without Dragon's Head.

DRAGONETTES

ROW 1: Suzanne Siems (Constitution Grafting Chairman), Sandy Duke (Sec. of Exchequer), Doris Rhinesperger (Grand Dragonette), Louise Bamberger (Anti-Social Chairman), Marlene Braun (Grand Ballotstuffer). ROW 2: Margie Varady (Minister of Songs), Nancy

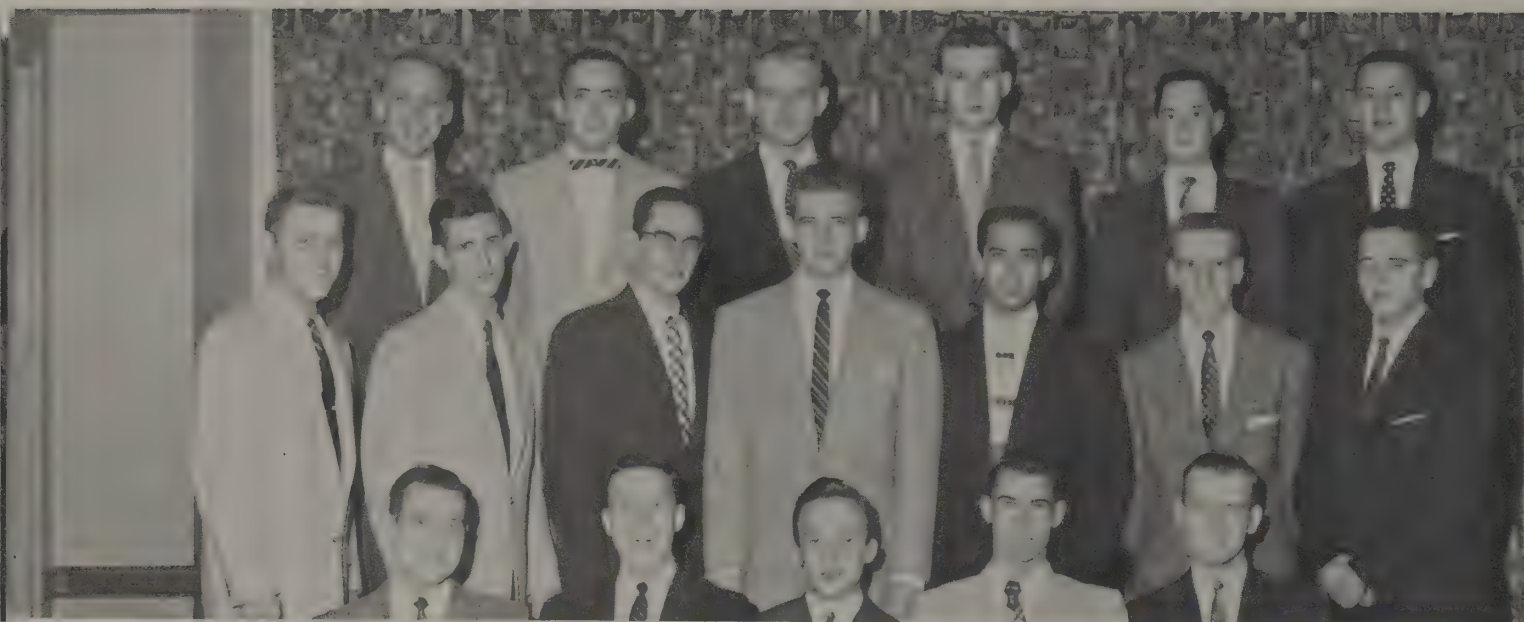

Crouch (Maladjuster), Kay Baldwin (Vice Chairman), Janet Rongey (Art Depreciator), Kathy Callon (Chairman of Bureaucracy), Carolyn Baker (Minister of Boress).

The Dragonettes got together for their annual meeting. There was a great deal of discussion as their officers were selected. (They drew offices from a hat.) The members also made plans for their annual dinner, held after the new initiates are selected.

Dragonettes is a relatively inactive honorary composed of women who represent the elite in campus activities at IU. In order to become a member of Dragonettes, a girl must be the head of a major campus organization.

The responsibilities and problems of the members of Dragonettes are nonexistent. As a member of this honorary, it is a woman's duty to relax and do nothing.

The YMCA provides students with opportunities for service on and off the campus. Organized into twelve divisions, the Y works in many diversified areas from freshmen to international friendship to community service. This organization attempts to fulfill needs which other campus organizations are not meeting. After hearing about the problems of the Hungarian refugees this year, the YMCA worked with the YWCA in setting up an all-campus steering committee to plan the Hungarian Relief Fund Drive.

This year, under a new Executive Director, Wendell Hines, the YMCA has increased co-operation with other campus organizations. The Y has always worked on projects which demand co-operation with other groups. An example of this is the planning of Freshman Camp and the student Orientation Leader program with the YWCA and the Junior Division.

Wendell Hines, YMCA Executive Director, points out the importance of Y service projects on the campus.

Hillel Foundation is a Jewish religious organization. The purpose of this foundation is to draw into all of its activities the Jewish students on the Bloomington campus. Hillel presents to the student away from home the Jewish cultural opportunities which he can find nowhere else on campus. Religious services are each Friday and on high holidays.

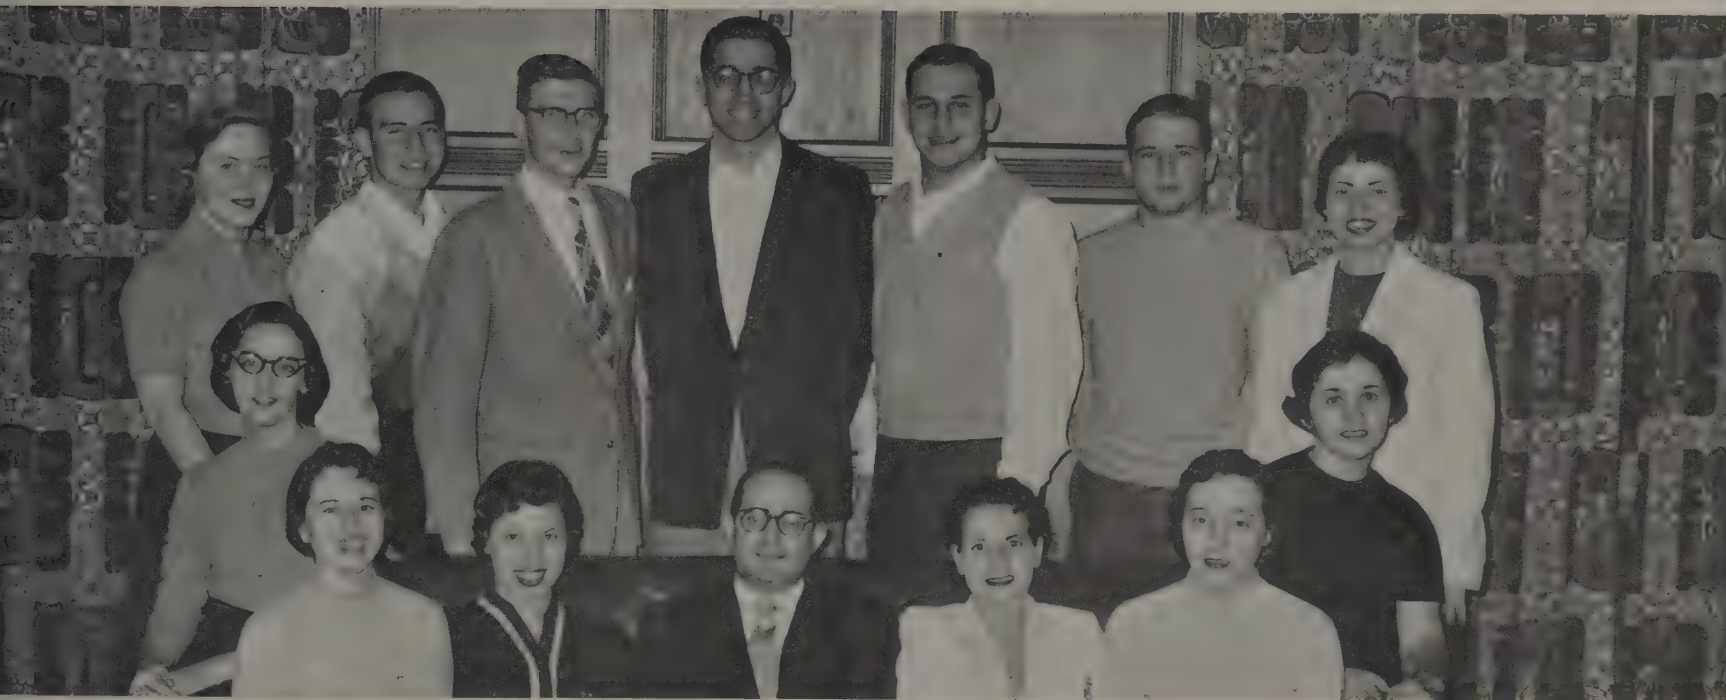

Among the activities of Hillel are open houses for new students, a cultural series of lectures and panel discussions, dances, and a Spring banquet to honor students who have worked in Hillel projects.

This year the IU Hillel members attended a regional get-together in West Lafayette with the Hillel members of Purdue. Every other week Hillel sponsored bridge tournaments. In March members of the group got together for dancing classes to learn the chacha and mambo. On April 10 Hillel presented the annual stunt show followed by a sock hop.

Hillel officers Arthur Samuel, Maxine Mages, Mike LeBurkien, and Mimi Schloss take time out to relax.

The letter-winners of Indiana University form the I-Men's Club. They bring together more closely the athletes of the various fields by their group activities. Cream and Crimson Day, highlighted by the Varsity-Alumni Football Game, is one of their most important annual events. The Homecoming dinner which they plan in honor of returning I-Men and fifty-year lettermen gives the group a sense of continuity.

This year the club sponsored a Spring dinner dance in honor of the coaches and I-Men, and presented a television set to the training room. Greg Bell, IU's Olympic medalist, was honored by the I-Men's Club and presented with a gold plaque. These and other I-Men activities set a tradition for the athletes of Indiana University.

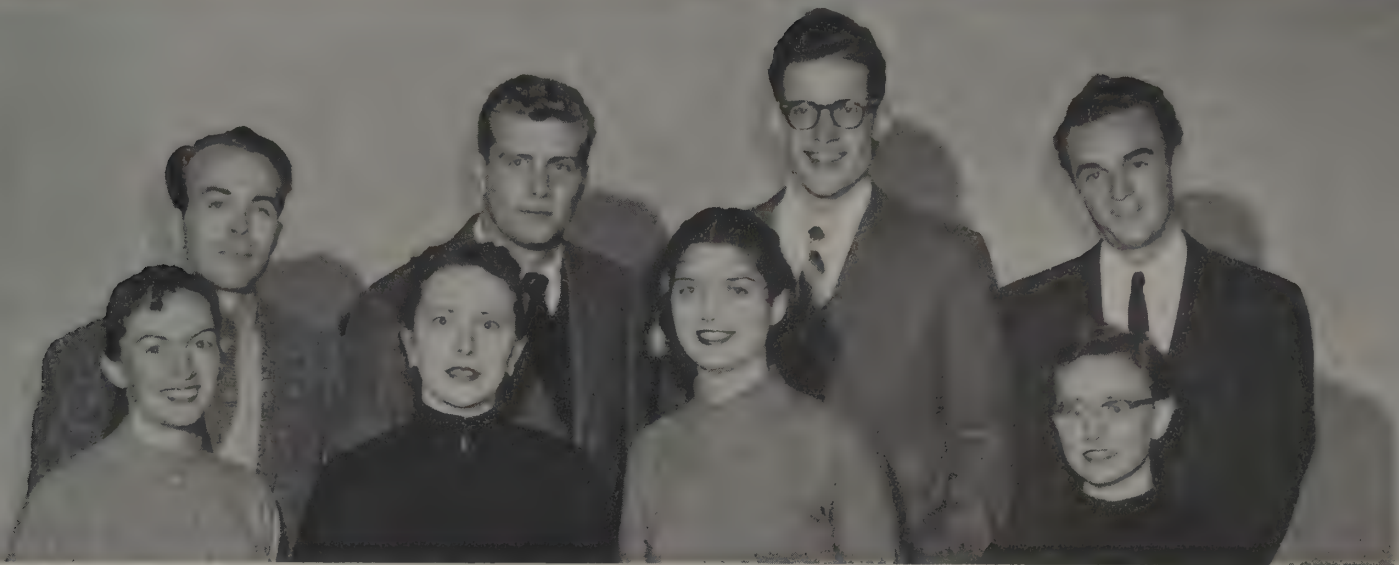

Looking at a trophy earned by former I Men are Dean Dewey, Brad Bomba, Ted Ross, and Ken Dillman.

Pershing Rifles is a National Army ROTC honorary. Army cadet officers are members of the Pershing Rifles Regimental Headquarters. Basic ROTC cadets serve in the Pershing Rifles Company A-3 to perfect their technique in drill and marksmanship.

The members of Pershing Rifles serve the University in many ways. This year they acted as color guard to put up the flag at home football games. The members of this honorary also guarded Jawn Purdue's body when it lay in state in the Commons.

This year Pershing Rifles members had the distinction of being among the first to use the new University golf course. They used it as a field problem which was a part of their initiation ceremony.

"Truth I pursue" is the motto and goal for Alpha Epsilon Delta, an honorary organization for premedical students who must maintain an average of B or above in three completed semesters of science requirements in order to be eligible for the organization. Alpha Epsilon Delta members work to encourage excellence in premedical scholarship, to promote cooperation and friendship among medical and premedical students and their educators, and to bind together students interested in the study of medicine. Alpha Epsilon Delta was founded on the Bloomington campus in 1949.

This year Alpha Epsilon Delta sponsored a state-wide conference for all premedical students. Each year this organization presents an award to the outstanding premedical student of the year.

Xi Psi Phi is a fraternal organization for students in the School of Dentistry at Indianapolis. Because dentistry is a profession which promotes the health and well-being of the individual, it is the goal of this organization to develop finer qualities in the character of its members and to preserve the highest ideals of dentistry. Xi Psi Phi provides a professional background in dentistry for its members.

The social calendar of Xi Psi Phi included Halloween and Christmas parties among its dances. Professional meetings for dental students were arranged by this honorary.

William Cromwell, Walter Burns, James Puccio, and John W. Rohn agree that the Xi Psi Phis are a hard-working gang of dental students.

Psi Omega is a dental fraternity. The main purpose of this organization is to assist its members in their professional background. Psi Omega was founded at Indiana University in 1903 and is now located at the IU Medical Center in Indianapolis.

Members of Psi Omega remain in contact with their alumni in order to gain knowledge through association with outstanding men in the field of dentistry. To provide a more complete social background, frequent parties and dances are planned by Psi Omega.

Rosie Rosenzweig, Ruth Cooperman, and Stanley Cooperman sift through manuscripts.

The Folio is a literary magazine published by Indiana University's Department of English. Graduate students in English have the responsibility of editing this publication and are assisted by an undergraduate staff. Three issues are published each year.

This is the twenty-second year of publication for the Folio, which is gaining greater national and international recognition. Poetry and short stories for the Folio are written by nation-wide contributors. It is on sale at newstands and bookshops throughout the United States. This year some selections of poetry from the Folio were reprinted in the New York Herald-Tribune.

Harold Whitehall, Phillip Appleman, and David Daiches are among those who have contributed poems, stories, and articles to this year's Folio. This year the magazine featured an anthology on French poetry and collections of German and Soviet poetry.

FOLIO

Ernest Lockridge, Bernard A. Bearer, and Stuart Mitchner eagerly await Nelson J. Smith's opinion of the contribution that he is reading.

Student Editors-in-Chief, George Gill, Kay Baldwin, and Sue Siems, proudly review the results of their hard work—tomorrow's Daily Student.

DAILY STUDENT

Late to bed and early to rise sets the pace for the Indiana Daily Student worker. He attends classes, grabs a bite to eat, works on the Student, participates in activities, works some more on the Student, and every now and then manages to get some sleep. Believing that practical experience is the best teacher, the journalism department teaches theory in the classroom, while the city room is the journalist's laboratory.

The time element is important to the member of the Student staff. He gets the information, visits the departments on the beat, signs the beat sheet before noon, writes the story. Then the editor takes over. He edits, checks, rewrites, makes up the pages, and worries that the story won't fit into the newshole. Finally the paper goes to press about 1:00 A.M.; then the Daily Student worker heads home to study for the next morning's 7:30 class.

Jim Sprunger offers advice to Frank Geiss, Daily Student Sports Editor.

The Business side of the Student is handled by Bill Maxwell, Jan Bernstein, Business Manager, and Jim Whittaker.

The Daily Student rim workers, Roy Vanett, Carolyn Holder, Carol Jensen, June Hauenstein, and Bill Summers, are kept quite busy.

Duane Clark, Liz Caldwell, and Jim Sprunger do some editorial meditation.

In a glass cage are Sherwin De Vorkin, Elmer Reynolds, and Sue Siems.

Mr. Savage, Student Faculty Adviser, shows the way to Dan Grimes and Roy Vanett, Student Night Editors.

The ARBUTUS is a collection of pictures and stories representing one year's span of the Indiana University way of life.

The ARBUTUS is more than a yearbook. It is an organization made up of people representing almost every college and school on the Indiana University campus. They come together to give talent—planning, writing copy, taking pictures, selling advertisements, cropping pictures, balancing the budget. These and many other tasks go into the production of the ARBUTUS. The staff members work individually or in groups, giving their time. The time which students pour into the production of the ARBUTUS is a most important factor in its development.

At last their dream came true! The Alpha Chis, first sorority to break ground on New Fraternity Row, moved into their new house this Spring.

With the excitement of moving, the Alpha Chis still had time for activities. Nancy Louck was president of FTA and a member of Mortar Board. Linda Walker was a Student Senator, Andy Onweller served as President of Junior Panhel, and Mary Brown was President of the Red Cross.

The pledges won first place for their Cream and Crimson Day display last Spring, and the Alpha Chis placed second in pit decorations for the Little 500.

The Alpha Gams honored their pledges at the Pearl Prelude, and in the Fall the girls donned costumes for the Suppressed Desire dance. They continued their social whirl with the Little 500 Parents' weekend and faculty buffets. The annual scavenger hunt sponsored by the pledge class sent the other sorority pledges throughout town at the Panhel outing.

This year Fall Carnival and Homecoming were under the direction of Carolyn Zanin, a member of Union Board. Other Alpha Gams, Sue Lienhart and Jane Ann Stouder, were on Y Cabinet, and Barbara Doran was pledged to Enomene. The Alpha Gams were especially proud of winning first place in the IU Sing.

The Alpha Kappa Alpha pledges were busy winning second-place honors in the Theta Olympics, while their actives were working elsewhere on campus. Louise Tyler and Francis Smith were members of the IU Foundation. Francis was also a member of SAC, Sigma Alpha Iota, and secretary of Pleiades.

The sorority's social events included the Ivy Leaf Ball, the Initiation Dance, and the Homecoming Dance, given with Alpha Phi Alpha. The AKAs also joined the Kappa Alpha Psis to present a PJ party which was a great success. A more serious event which they observed was their Founder's Day.

The January issue of Mademoiselle Magazine featured a survey of a typical state university. IU was chosen as the school and two AOPis, Marty Dickinson and Jeanine Harwood, were featured in the sequence.

The AOPi social calendar kept the girls busy with the AOPineapple Party, the Senior Dance, and the Founder's Day Banquet. When December came with all its festivities, the AOPis gave a Christmas dinner and played Santa Claus to some children in Bloomington.

AOPis were proud of their sisters, Jeanine Harwood, vice-president of Enomene; Patt Kozacik, copy editor of the Arbutus; Roslyn Johnston, Jan Moore, Jan Polivka and Ann Stone, members of the Belles, and Judi Polivka, member of SAC. Elaine Laird, Marilyn Roser, and Becky White were members of Pleiades.

Last Spring the Alpha Phis found themselves dressed as Easter bunnies to help the Lambda Chis in their annual Easter egg hunt. They entertained the new pledges with a dinner dance, Alpha-Phi-Esta. Exchange dinners, Parents' weekend, banquets, a faculty tea, open houses, and backing the Acacias in the Little 500 filled their social calendar for the year.

Yvonne Fox, Phi Beta Kappa; Marlene Chambers, secretary of Union Board; Judy Pritchard, chairman of Rush Workshop; Pat Curtis, vice-president of FTA; Nancy Day, advertising manager for the Arbutus, and Sue Helms, member of SAC were outstanding Alpha Phis. Alpha Phi is also represented in Enomene, Pleiades, Oceanides, AWS Council, and Pi Lambda Theta.

Last Fall the Alpha Xi Deltas learned not to trust a motor! At the last moment the motor on their Homecoming display broke down, and the moving parts became motionless. However, the pledges and some of the dads came to the rescue and a little manual labor saved the day. The Alpha Xis point with pride to Clara McDuffee, secretary of the Young Republican Club, Sue Groh, ex-officio member of the Student Senate, and Cathy Mossholder, town-girl representative for AWS. The Alpha Xis are especially proud of Rosemary Eves who is studying voice in Germany on a Fulbright scholarship.

Alpha Xi Delta social events this year included their annual Rose Ball, Dads' Day and Mothers' Weekend.

The Chi O's social scene began early this year with an open house for their new house mother, Mrs. Kirby, and the Fall dance, "Chi-Opium." It wasn't long before violets and Spring showers came to campus that the Chi Omegas presented their Carnation Ball.

Honors, yes, there were many of them for the Chi Os. Shirley McAlpine, Sylvia Huss, and Kay Baldwin were tapped for Mortar Board. Shirley was also a member of Pleiades and Kay was an Editor-in-chief of the Daily Student. Sandy Sallach, Union Board; Ruth Drier, Y Executive Board, and Colleen Nash, Arbutus Queen, were other campus notables.

With the excitement of building a new wing, the Tri Delts were eager to begin the school year. Their first endeavor won for them a first place at the Fall Carnival. When Christmas came they played Santa for their dates at the Tree Trimming Party and with the Fijis gave a party for the children from Christian Center. In the Spring they gave the annual Pansy Breakfast.

People in the news included Margie Varady, president of Pleiades; Yvonne Belcher, Union Board; Cookie Graham, president of the Spanish Club; Shirley Schawnholt, Phi Beta Kappa, and Marilyn Austin, Mortar Board and Student Senate Cabinet. Other Tri Delts were members of SAC, Arbutus, Alpha Lambda Delta, Y, AWS, and Enomene.

The DG's Homecoming display, the "IU Show'em Boat," won first place in the sorority division and another first place was taken by the DGs in the IU Sing. Other honors won by the girls were their third straight victory in the DG-Theta Little 500 and the Delta Gamma regional activities award. Ruth Ann Sill and Phyllis Stewart were on the Junior Prom Queen's court and the Arbutus Queen court respectively.

Socially they enjoyed the Christmas dance, Spring formal, and a Halloween party with the Kappa Sigs for the children in the University Apartments. They also had a caroling party with the Phi Delts and a square dance with the Thetas.

The Delta Sigma Thetas and their dates enjoyed themselves at the Fall Roundup wiener roast relaxing and listening to the experiences of the Summer. Later in the year they donned costumes for the Masquerade Party. The Peppermint Ball and Pledge Dance were highlights of the Spring semester.

With all this fun the DSTs found time to be active in campus organizations. Helen Emile, Pi Lambda Theta; Charlotte Waterford, Omicron Delta; and Gloria Randle, AWS Board of Standards, were their activity girls.

One of the highlights of the DZ's social calendar was their annual Fall costume dance. Their colonial style house was turned into a circus Big Top as the couples danced in their circus costumes. The DZs also had Dad's Weekend, Dames Ball dinner, Mother's Weekend, and a Spring formal.

In addition to having a busy social year, the DZs were well represented in campus activities as shown by Marjorie Rodebeck, Mortar Board; Angie Vitello, secretary to the Supreme Court; Ann Eakins, student senator; Dorothy Kretsch, AWS Board of Standards; Norma Spires, treasurer of Tau Beta Sigma, and Marcia Manley, treasurer of the WRA.

The Theta pledges spent an evening in "Fantasia" at the Spring pledge dance. Later they tied for first place at the Theta Olympics. Denise Lor was a special guest at the Theta house for the Little 500 weekend. Marty Hartzell, secretary of the Senior Class and a member of Mortar Board; Cindy Benzel, treasurer of Panhellenic; JoAnn Woodfill, president of Enomene, and Sally Branson and Sandy McCrory led the list of outstanding Thetas.

The girls are looking forward to the addition of a new wing and redecoration of their house. Here they will be able to add the Scholarship Trophy and the first-place trophy for backing the winning Little 500 team.

"It won't be long," all the KDs sighed. They were referring to the fact that soon they would move into their new home on New Fraternity Row.

The Kappa Delts and Phi Kappa Taus again sponsored the jitterbug contest before the Fall Carnival. The girls also enjoyed entertaining their dates at their Fall and Spring dances.

An exciting event happened when one of their members, Charlotte Hughes, was crowned Junior Prom Queen last year. Other KDs were also busy making known the name of IU's newest sorority on campus. Pat Keates served as corresponding secretary of Enomene and Kay Snyder was appointed to SAC and was secretary of Panhellenic.

The Kappas combined their brains and talents and won third place for their Fall Carnival booth and honorable mention for scholarship at their national convention. They also won the Miniature 500 trophy for the second straight year last Spring.

The Kappas were justly proud of Bunny Perrotta, Sweater Queen, and Mary Richardson, Homecoming Queen. Bunny, Sue Smith, and Merle Miley were cheerleaders, while other Kappas were busy in Enomene, Oceanides, AWS, YWCA, IU Foundation, Pleiades, and the Daily Student. Carolyn Baker and Barb Bassett were members of Mortar Board.

All Summer the Phi Mus eagerly anticipated their return to campus. The reason: their new Georgian style house! The Phi Mus held open houses for the faculty and alumni. Their annual Spring Pledge Dance, Homecoming, the Steak and Bean Dinner, Fall Carnival, and exchange dinners rounded out their social activities for the year.

Doris Rhinesberger was chairman of AWS Board of Standards, vice-president of AWS Council and a member of the Senate Advisory Committee. Julia Henderson was elected to Alpha Lambda Delta and Tau Beta Sigma, and Mary Ann Farcus served as assistant secretary of Panhel and is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota and Pleiades.

The Pi Phis were pleased to welcome their sisters from the University of Louisville as their first guests in their enlarged house. The Fall pledge dance, Swiss Chalet, opened the Pi Beta Phi social season. Later the Pi Phis and Kappas presented the "Monmouth Duo." The Pi Phis joined the SAE's in the IU Sing and teamed with the Sigma Nus for the Little 500.

Their well-knowns included Nancy Crouch, president of Mortar Board; Martha Crays, president of Alpha Lambda Delta; Nancy Siegfried, president of Omicron Nu; Linde Schmidt, Student Senator; Nancy Witte, Homecoming Queen court, and Marilyn Hallett, Arbutus Queen court.

The pinlight torch of SDT now shines over a new doorway. Last Summer the white frame house on Jordan underwent a thorough remodeling. The front was lime-stoned, the entrance was changed, the yard was landscaped, and new rooms and an enlarged dorm were added. Outstanding SDTs were Marlene Braun, president of Panhel and a member of Mortar Board; Barbara Strauss, Pleiades and YWCA cabinet, and Meta Freeman, AWS Board.

SDT pledges washed cars to raise money for a house gift and shined shoes to raise money for their Barbara Siegel Memorial fund scholarship, which is awarded to one deserving member each year. New initiates were honored each semester with the annual Spring and Winter formals.

Dedication services and open houses marked the completion of work done to the Sigma Kappa house. The house was redecorated and an addition with study rooms, a dining room, kitchen, and sun deck was added.

Their social calendar was filled with a pledge open house, the Lavendar Lane dance, and the Faculty Buffet. The girls still found time to take an active role in activities. From 300 North Jordan came the treasurers of the Y, Senior Class, and Pleiades, two majorettes, and the President of WRA. Sigma Kappas were also members of Mortar Board, Y Cabinet and Council, Pi Lambda Theta, Theta Sigma Phi, Alpha Lambda Delta, the Belles, and Oceanides.

Socially, the Theta Phi Alphas got underway with their annual Halloween party for the pledges. Christmas provided the theme and atmosphere for the next event, the Candy Cane Strut. A gaily decorated Christmas tree and colorful candy canes added to the holiday atmosphere. At this time the Christmas trees, which were used as decorations, and toys were taken to church and distributed among the children.

As the season progressed, the Theta Phis presented their pledges at the White Rose Formal and gave faculty teas. One of their members, Earlene Sieron, was awarded a Little 500 Scholarship.

A special treat was in store for the ZTA alumnae when they returned to campus for Homecoming this year. The collegiate chapter showed them the plans and the site of their house which will be built on New Fraternity Row next year.

The ZTAs enjoyed a Fall pledge dance, a faculty tea, and a Spring pledge dance, Moments to Remember. One of their members, Ruth Hargis, was chosen state sweetheart of Sigma Nu and was also elected to the Arbutus Court.

The ZTAs claim Nancy Blaisdell, vice-president of the Junior Class, who with Joyce Weigle is also a member of Pleiades. Debby Van Arsdall was tapped to be a member of Mortar Board and Ruth Padgett was selected as a member of Enomene.

A new national fraternity was welcomed to Indiana this year. The Alpha Epsilon Pis, the first fraternity to appear on campus in the last ten years, were busy getting acquainted with their new house and the ways of fraternity life.

In the Fall, the AEPis enjoyed their first big dance, "Bohemian Heaven." It wasn't long afterward that the Pledge Dance came, and it also proved to be an unforgettable event.

AEPis could be found working on the Daily Student, the Arbutus and the Rifle Team. Dennis Escol, manager of the Belles, was also on the IU Foundation, and Alpha Epsilon Pi was represented in the Falcon and Sphinx clubs.

The Alpha Phi Alphas are living now in MRC, but they are looking forward to the day when they can move into a house of their own.

Members of Alpha Phi Alpha participated in many activities this year. Don Ward was President of NAAPC and a member of Sphinx Club, IU Foundation, and the cross country team. The Alpha Phi Alphas also worked with their national organization on Citizenship Week, and were active in intramural sports.

This year they celebrated their tenth year on campus with a homecoming dance, a skating party, and their annual Fall and Spring formal dances. The crowning of the Alpha Phi Alpha queen was the highlight of the Spring formal.

The influence of Beta Theta Pi at IU is evident all over campus. Six buildings, including the new law building, derived their names from former Indiana Betas, and the Wellhouse is a replica of the Beta pin. Beta Theta Pi is not only the oldest fraternity on campus, but is also the oldest West of the Allegheny Mountains.

The Betas won first places in the "Bleed the Greeks" blood drive and the jitterbug contest. They also claim nine varsity athletes. The Betas were represented in activities by Joe Denny, YMCA cabinet; Steve Riggins, Student Senate; Bill Swift, vice-president of Falcon Club; and Bill Baxter, male director of the Freshman Class. The Phi Sigma Kappas honored their queen at their annual Moonlight Girl Dance. They danced at a Hobo Hop, two pajama dances, and other theme parties which amounted to a full schedule on their social calendar for the year. They hope to have their new house on New Fraternity Row completed by next year.

Frank Geiss, President of the fraternity, was a night editor of the Daily Student, and Bob Hardy was treasurer of the Accounting Club. The Phi Sigs sent three men from the chapter to their national convention at Glacier Park, Montana. This was the first year since the chapter's founding in 1949 that they were represented at the convention.

The pledges of Pi Kappa Phi are looking forward to living in the new fraternity house which should be completed in 1960. The other members are eagerly awaiting the day when they can see the ground work begun and the actual plans taking shape.

While all this excitement was stirring up the Pi Kaps, they still found time to entertain at their annual Rose Ball formal in December. More dances and a banquet filled the social calendar for the Pi Kaps. The Left Bank dance was the highlight of the Spring semester, while the pajama pledge dance was the featured event of the Fall semester.

From behind the traditional Red Door came Bill Petrich, varsity tennis; Ron Barnes, manager of the basketball team, and Dick Roth, manager of the freshman basketball team. The men and their activities kept the name of the Sig Eps before the campus all year.

The North Hall Barons were named the outstanding unit of MRC, won the Social Plaque of MRC, and captured the MRC softball crown last year. The Barons also won the single lap record for the Little 500 race for the second straight year. Annually they present a homecoming dance, a senior steak fry, and a Christmas formal.

The dorm is well represented by men on the Student Athletic Committee, IU Foundation, and the debate team. The residents of North Hall are also members of Delta Sigma Alpha, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Delta Phi Epsilon, and of the Flame and Tomahawk clubs.

The Cavaliers did exceptionally well in athletics this year as their football team surged ahead to come out on top, a league champion. They also had good basketball and softball teams.

The Cavaliers shared the Christmas spirit with Weatherwax at their annual Christmas party. With all the excitement of the holiday season, looming finals were forgotten. Other events were mixers, exchange dinners, and the annual Cavalier Spring steak fry at McCormick's Creek. The M.R.C. plaque for unit and center work was awarded to the Cavaliers.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

have merged and overlapped. Farm people work part-time in town. City people move to the suburbs for residence. Business decentralizes by building new plants in the open country. More than half the farm youth leave for the city before they are 25 years old.

"City Limits" is only a legal concept.

The economies of farm and city are interdependent. One cannot prosper for long unless the other also prospers. All problems are common problems.

DENTAL PRODUCTS

Look around the operating room of almost any successful dentist — and it's a safe bet you'll see S. S. White products. They belong there traditionally. Chances are they're the same make of products the dentist started with — and stayed with — because they do what is claimed for them. The name "S. S. White" is your assurance of this — on everything from burs to operating units. Take the first step to success by getting to know your S. S. White Dealer — or write to us. Incidentally, our free office planning service is at your disposal, too.

Best wishes to I. U. Graduates!

● Congratulations to every member of the Indiana University graduating class!

We are fortunate in having several I. U. graduates on our management team . . . progressive young people who have helped to make this one of the nation's vital, growing corporations.

Because we are growing steadily, we will have new desks to man . . . and we know that a good share of well-trained I. U. graduates will take their places behind them. These young men and women will find the Hamilton Manufacturing Corporation a fine place to work . . . and Columbus, Indiana, a fine place in which to live and raise children.

Once again, from the old grads and all the rest of us here at Hamilton, best wishes to the class of '57!

STRENGTH FROM STRUCTURE

Observe how a bird builds its nest—how it binds and weaves and cements—the instinctive use of structure to build strength.

Nature builds strong natural teeth with the same infinite care by developing a dense, homogenous internal structure . . . and man-made teeth must be fabricated from a material which has a similar internal structure in order to provide the maximum possible strength for the wearer of artificial dentures.

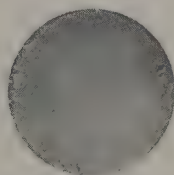

The vacuum fired porcelain of Trubyte Bioform Teeth approaches this natural perfection of structural material. The internal and external gases causing the voids and air bubbles in conventional porcelain have been substantially removed. A denser, more homogenous material results that allows grinding and polishing without risk of chipping or flaking.

TRUBYTE BIOFORM VACUUM
FIRED PORCELAIN

Note in these two photomicrographs how the denser, more homogenous structure of vacuum fired porcelain is substantially free from the voids and bubbles found in conventional porcelain.

For greater strength and more beautiful esthetics for all your complete and partial denture requirements, specify the one and only Trubyte Bioform Vacuum Fired Porcelain Anteriors and Posteriors.
